VERDICT SOON IN TRIAL AT MOSCOW

ATTEMPT ON HITLER'S LIFE IS REPORTED

Police Say Arrest of Man Frustrated Attack on German Chancellor

Hitler Holidaying At Mountain Home

Berchtesgaden, Germany, April 17.—What police said was an attempt on the life of Chancellor Adolf Hitler was frustrated this afternoon and Paul Orlowsky, who the authorities said had been acting suspiciously in this neighborhood, was arrested. The Chancellor is spending the Easter holiday at his summer mountain home here.

The authorities said narcotics, a load revolver and false papers had been found in Orlowsky's possession. They declared he had false Nazi party papers as well as a falsified passport and that he claimed to be a German citizen.

The criminal police are investigating.

Colombian Troops Lose River Fight

Lima, Peru, April 17.—An official bulletin to-day said the Peruvian vanguard had attacked Colombian troops at Guapl, on the right bank of the upper Putumayo River in the disputed Leticia border territory, and that the Colombians had fallen back six kilometers (about 3 1/2 miles).

The Colombian losses were heavy, the communiqué said, and the Peruvians lost one dead and four wounded.

No Unemployment Under Group Plan

Oxford Movement Can Change Whole Structure of Economic Life, Says G. G. McGeer, K.C.

Sailor, Calling Admiral By His Christian Name, Realizes There Must Be Something to It

Special to The Times
Qualicum, April 17.—Gerald G. McGeer, K.C., lawyer, politician and economist, Vancouver, dominated the proceedings of the Oxford Group Movement yesterday when he spoke on "Implications of the group movement and economics."

Mr. McGeer spoke with dynamic fervor and carried the meeting to a high pitch of enthusiasm. He saw how the Oxford Group movement could change the whole structure of economic life so that no one could be in want.

The unemployment problem would be solved by the employment by God in the life-changing business.

The lesson was read by a well-known Vancouver broker, who interpreted it from his experience of the power of Christ.

A bank manager and his two sons testified to the change that had been brought about in the family life, with particular emphasis on the relations existing between father and son.

RANK GOES OVERBOARD
Vice-Admiral Sidney R. Drury-Lowe, who boasts a lengthy and meritorious career in the British Navy, and with twelve years' experience at sea, is a member of the group here. He spoke of the difference Christ makes in his life and married life. The admiral served at Gallipoli and with the Grand Fleet in the war.

"When an admiral of the fleet permits us to call him Sidney, I know there must be something to this movement," commented a former seaman after hearing the admiral speak.

One man brought in a party from a distant town and said he wished that a member of the group would break down under the high-speed pressure and be forced to "rest" in his district. He was reminded that he himself had been rescued from towns all over the Pacific northwest requesting that teams be sent to give them the benefit of the group campaign.

TWO-LEGGED MIRACLES
Members of the travelling team spoke of the two-legged miracles from Victoria and other points in the province. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 7)

Jews In Germany Forced To Do Menial Labor

Illustrating graphically the campaign against the Jews in Germany being carried on by the Nazis, the picture above, taken in Chemnitz, Saxony, shows a group of humiliating Jewish citizens there were rounded up and forced to clean up the town. Those pictured were washing a wall while armed Nazi troops looked on. The photograph was smuggled in to Czechoslovakia by a refugee.

Wide Search Is Made For Missing Vancouver Youth

SEATTLE TO HAVE BEER FROM B.C.

Seattle, April 17.—The Treasury Department to-day notified Collector of Customs George E. Hubbard here that imported beer is not subject to a tariff of $1 a gallon and 1-3 of a cent per pound of glass.

Local breweries reported they had but little beer on hand.

Heretofore importers have paid the $5 revenue tax on imported beer and what little was sold retailed at 30 cents for a small bottle.

Stewart Ashley, School Teacher, Not Seen Since Last Thursday Evening; Note Demanding $5,000 Ransom Causes All Police in Province to Be on Look-out

Vancouver, April 17.—As police searched the Vancouver district to-day there was a demand for a ransom of $5,000 as a new angle in the case of Stewart Ashley, nineteen-year-old school teacher, who has been mysteriously missing since April 13.

It was disclosed the demand had been received Saturday in the form of a note by D. T. Ashley, father of the missing youth, 425 West Tenth Avenue. Received through the mail Saturday afternoon, it reads:

"Get $5,000 by April 20 or your son will die. You will hear again on the nineteenth."

According to Mr. Ashley, the note was written with a typewriter on a piece of plain notepaper, which was doubled, and was contained in a plain envelope with a typewritten address. A wrong address had first been written, then scored out and the proper address given.

No signature was attached to the message.

FAK-FLUNG SEARCH

All police forces throughout the province were notified by the Vancouver department of the ransom demand and requested to watch for the youth.

Young Ashley, a school teacher and Y.M.C.A. boy, was last seen leaving the Y.M.C.A. building at Dunsen and Cambie Streets at 10 o'clock Thursday evening. He had been attending a gymnasium class there, and as he left told friends he was going home.

He was wearing a blue suit and had no overcoat or hat.

He is six feet tall and has dark brown hair and brown eyes. For two years he was a student at the University of British Columbia and later was engaged in substitute school teaching in Vancouver.

While police did not discount the possibility of the note having been written by some moron who read in the press of the disappearance of the young teacher.

Inspector B. McLeod and a squad of detectives worked Saturday and Sunday without uncovering any trace of the missing youth.

BREAK IN POWER

Blind River, Ont., April 17. (Canadian Press)—The people of Blind River, without power facilities, were flooded and ice carried away nine power poles last Thursday, expect service to be resumed on Wednesday, when two sixty-foot towers will be completed and power lines again strung.

Alberta Has Snow As Farmers Plant Seed

Calgary, April 17.—Alberta's southern and central areas were to-day wrapped in a thick snow blanket. The snowfall, which started Saturday evening, continued in various areas to-day, ranging from Banff in the Rockies to the Saskatchewan border and from the United States border to Innisfail in the north.

Fear sections in the southern and central districts missed the precipitation, which held up work on the land indefinitely but promised to place the ground in ideal condition for seeding once the sun appears again.

The Calgary district was smothered by the wintry carpet. A total of six to ten inches of snow was reported at noon to-day, with the storm continuing. Other areas reported precipitation ranging from four to fourteen inches.

Moisture is plentiful in the farm lands of the south, as more than forty inches of snow has fallen during March and April to date.

CHINESE KILL TWO BRITONS

Hongkong, China, April 17.—Two British officers and one Chinese officer were killed and several sailors were wounded to-day when the cruiser H.M.S. Hermes, which recently joined the Chinese maritime customs, was attacked by pirates after being grounded fifteen miles from Macao.

The vessel disappeared and it was believed the pirates had sailed it away. From Macao it was reported that one of the British officers killed by the pirates was named Pearce and the other, formerly of H.M.S. Hermes, was named Baldwin. Baldwin, it was said, died of his wounds some time after the attack.

ASTON VILLA IS DEFEATED

Drop Important Match to Newcastle United in English Football 3 to 1

London, April 17.—Newcastle United rose to the occasion to-day and satisfied a large home crowd by defeating Aston Villa 3 to 1 in the most important tilt of the day's English Soccer League schedule. Arsenal, whose wins on Friday and Saturday clinched for them the championship, were idle, as were Sheffield Wednesday, holders of second place.

Newcastle's win tied them with the Villa with forty-seven points in third place.

In the second division Stoke City consolidated its hold on the leadership by winning from Charlton Athletic 2 to 0, while second-place Tottenham Hotspurs were being held to a 2 to 2 tie by Plymouth Argyle.

At the other end of the ladder Chesterfield lost to West Ham United, and in so doing added another blow to their hopes to get out of the relegation area.

The leaders all come through in the northern section by winning from Tranmere Rovers 3 to 0, while second-place Chester lost a 2 to 0 decision to the lowly Rochdale.

There was no play in the Scottish League.

CEDAR POISON PROVES FATAL

Mill-worker Succumbs From Slight Injury Sustained From Wood

Coroner E. C. Hart this morning ordered an inquest over John Reid, aged sixty-two, 769 Hill Street, who died in the Jubilee Hospital early yesterday morning from conditions developing out of a mishap at Lemon, Gonnason's mill, where he was employed, last Monday.

Reid, mill officials said, got some cedar shavings in his arm and wrist while at work. He was taken to hospital for treatment and his condition was not considered serious at first. However, blood-poisoning set in and he died despite every effort to save his life.

The inquest will be held at Sands Mortuary to-morrow morning.

Mr. Reid had been a resident of Victoria for the last twenty-two years. He was born in England. In addition to the widow, those surviving are: One daughter, Vera, Florence, and one son, Gordon E., at home, one daughter, Mrs. E. Lohrburner, Union Avenue, Lake Hill, and two sisters, Mrs. H. Stevenson, Bushy Street, and Mrs. C. A. Ellingworth, 2111 West 10th Avenue.

The funeral will be held from Sands on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev. Canon Stocken officiating. Interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

BOMB IS SET OFF IN SEATTLE

Seattle, April 17.—A bomb exploded here early to-day in a light well on the north side of the Terminal Apartments, 7609 Eighth Avenue. No one was injured, police reported, although a score of windows were broken and dozens of persons awakened.

C. B. Hadden, an apartment tenant, said he saw a man run from the building a moment after the blast.

Police said they knew of no motive for the bombing.

HERRIOT ON TRIP TO U.S.

French Spokesman Sails For New York; to Attend Washington Conferences

Le Havre, France, April 17.—Former Premier Edouard Herriot left for Washington to-day to lay the groundwork for an eventual French proposal to pay a lump sum for the outstanding war debt owed to the United States.

His instructions are to be an observer, instead of a negotiator, and to lay the groundwork for the international conference with President Roosevelt on world problems.

But he will lose no opportunity to present the French case and pave the way for later negotiations through Andre de Laboulaye, the new French Ambassador.

Debts, although admittedly only a part of the world recovery plan, loom large in the French parliamentary and press discussions.

"Premier Deladier," a spokesman for the Foreign Office said, "had two alternatives; first, to send M. Herriot to Washington with last December's ultimatum in a sachet, which he could not do because of the opposition in the Chamber of Deputies; and second, to send him with a personal letter from President Albert Lebrun."

Aboard the Ile de France M. Herriot was handed a personal letter from President Albert Lebrun.

"This note is to convey my greetings and good wishes at the moment you start across the ocean," the President wrote. "A pleasant journey, a successful mission, and a happy return."

London, April 17. (Associated Press)—The annual report of the Imperial War Graves Commission reveals the bodies of Great Britain's war dead are still being recovered at the rate of 800 a year from the battlefields of the Somme area alone.

ROBBERS TAKE SAFE AND $1,384
Seattle, April 17.—Leaving a dummy car radio safe in place, burglars yesterday evening wrecked the interior of the Cascade Petroleum Company's office here and carried away a 1,500-pound safe containing $1,384 in cash and $897 in cheques.

The safe was three feet high and two and a half feet wide. The robbers apparently left the dummy to delay discovery of the robbery should anyone look in and note the disappearance of the safe.

SEARCH FOR FLIER FAILS

Algiers, Algeria, April 17.—Search continued to-day for Captain William Lancaster, British pilot who has been unreported since last Wednesday night. He was attempting a speed flight from England to Capetown, South Africa.

An automobile party returned to Reggan, Morocco, where Captain Lancaster was last seen, after an unsuccessful search of the desert.

Two-story Brick Building in Detroit Destroyed By Blast

Detroit, Mich., April 17.—Fifty persons were injured, twenty-eight of them seriously enough to require hospital treatment, when an explosion demolished a two-story brick building on the edge of the business district here yesterday evening, shaking buildings for blocks around.

Police of the arson squad found indications the blast was caused by gasoline.

Kenny Black Has Six-Hole Lead In B.C. Golf Finals

Vancouver Youngster Conceded Victory Over Alex. Watson in Provincial Play

Conclude Thirty-six-hole Match This Afternoon; Large Gallery in Attendance

Ken Black, Vancouver, took a commanding lead in the first round of the thirty-six-hole final of the British Columbia amateur golf championship at the Victoria Golf Club this morning, when he finished 6 up on Alex. Watson, Oak Bay veteran.

Black, well-known Vancouver professional, was expected to end the match early this afternoon.

To-day's final was being played in ideal weather, with little wind to bother the players. A large gallery watched this morning's play. Black had a medal round of 75, while Watson took an 80.

In the final of the first flight Ken Lawson defeated A. S. G. Musgrave 2 and 1, after an interesting match.

Black started well by winning the first hole with a 6 to Watson's 7. The seventeenth and eighteenth were Vancouver youngsters got into trouble at the second to finish with a 6, while Watson got a 3 to square the match. Black then cut loose with a string of five 4s and a couple of threes to become four up at the end of the first nine.

The tenth, eleventh and twelfth holes were halved by Black winning the thirteenth to become 5 up. Watson rallied to capture the fourteenth hole to have his young opponent take the next two holes to become 6 up. The seventeenth and eighteenth were halved, leaving Black 6 up at the end of the first round.

One of the features of the match was seen at the eighteenth hole. Both players were on the green in two. Watson being away stepped up to his ball and dropped it in a twenty-five-foot putt. Undaunted, Black followed by sinking a twenty-footer, amid the applause of the gallery.

BADLY BURNED IN ACCIDENT

Clothing of James Island Man Caught Fire While Burning Rubbish

Victim of an accident at James Island on Thursday, Howard Goodfellow is fighting for life in St. Joseph's Hospital here with serious and painful burns.

Dr. W. H. Moore, the attending physician, reported the man's condition was serious.

Full details of the mishap have not been revealed yet because Goodfellow was alone when it happened and he has not been well enough to give an explanation since.

It is believed his clothing caught fire while he was in the act of burning rubbish on the beach at James Island.

He rolled on the beach and extinguished the flames himself, but not before he had been severely burned about the head, arms, legs and body. He staggered up to the powder plant buildings and other workers saw to it he was immediately rushed to the hospital.

The painful nature of his injuries was intensified by the fact that when he rolled on the beach to quench the flames, pebbles stuck in his flesh.

Goodfellow is single, about forty years of age, and has been employed at the powder plant some years.

Prosecutor Tells Moscow Judges Evidence Lacking Against A. W. Gregory, But He Asks Secondary Punishment Be Decried For Other Five

Verdict To-morrow Or On Wednesday

"Highest Penalty" Is Urged For V. Gusev By Prosecutor, Who Calls For Sentencing of Russians in Group

Moscow, April 17.—Charges of sabotage, bribery and espionage could not be maintained against A. W. Gregory, Prosecutor Andre Vishinsky declared to-day in a demand for conviction of the five other British engineers at the trial of seventeen persons on charges arising from alleged hindering of Soviet industry. He intimated a recommendation for secondary punishment would be made for the other five.

"The highest penalty," however, was demanded for Vassili Gusev, whom Vishinsky described as the "main saboteur." He left to the court's discretion punishment to be assessed against the rest of the prisoners, though he asked mercy for two of the eleven Russian defendants and in effect recommended secondary punishment for five of the Englishmen by declaring:

"The organizers of this conspiracy must be punished most severely. He enumerated these organizers as Gusev, L. A. Sukoruchkin, N. G. Zoric, A. T. Lobanov, M. O. Krasneninikov and V. A. Sokolov.

SPOKE AT LENGTH
In a five-hour conclusion of his summation, begun yesterday evening, the prosecutor heatedly berated five of the Britons, openly accusing L. C. Thornton and C. H. Nordwell of being agents of the British Secret Service.

Vishinsky inspired John Cushman to make an angry but short-lived protest to his sharp thrusts from the prisoner's box. Described by the prosecutor as an experienced spy who had confessed collecting information but refused to explain his activities, Cushman, his face pale with rage, jumped from his seat in the dock and flung back at Vishinsky in Russian:

"But I did not confess."

Murmurs of surprise swept the courtroom at this unexpected development, but Presiding Judge Vassili Ulrich, using an electric bell instead of the orthodox gavel employed in some other countries, quieted the disturbance. Cushman resumed his seat and the prosecutor went back to his attack.

He placed the five Britons, L. C. Thornton, William H. Macdonald, Allan Monkhouse, Charles H. Nordwell and John Cushman, in the "second group," apparently for the purpose of setting forth the order in which the prosecution lists the comparative guilt of the prisoners.

Nine defense attorneys will speak to-night, and to-morrow the defendants will have a chance to make final statements.

THEATRE IN TRAIL ROBBED

Trail, B.C., April 17.—Two armed and masked bandits forced C. H. Dilley, manager of the Liberty Theatre here, to open the safe and escaped with about $200 yesterday evening, half an hour before the opening of a preview of a show at midnight. The bandits surprised Dilley R. D. Ramsden in the dark room, forced him to call Dilley and, after the safe was opened, tied up Dilley, Ramsden and Johnny Lazaroff, a violinist.

A man named Sloan, who entered the office while the hold-up was in progress was also tied up. The robbers cut the telephone wire and got away without leaving a trace.

New York, April 17. (Associated Press)—Mrs. Marie Rulien, forty-eight, didn't like the high silk hats the men were wearing on Fifth Avenue yesterday. Every one she saw, Patrolman Thomas Lenton who arrested her for disorderly conduct, said, she tried to knock off with her handbag, and when the patrolman sought to arrest her she swung on him too.

CITY FALLS
Japanese planes dropped about 100 bombs between one and three miles off Saturday, beginning the real offensive, it was learned to-day. Ch. C. Chwang, ten miles southwest of Shanhaikwan, was occupied Saturday.

After the aerial bombardment, the Manchukuo troops attacked the Chinese lines with field guns, aided by range-finding planes. The first details of the battle received here to-day said the Chinese garrison had fled at 6 Saturday evening and that Chinese police then had handed over the city to the Manchukuoans under General Li Chi-shung.

Refugees in the area were reported streaming to the Kailan mining company, which is a British holding. British marines previously had been reported landed in the city.

Japanese then stationed guards in the Chingwang railway station.

statements before the court retires for the verdict. The decision is expected late to-morrow or on Wednesday.

"SEVERE PENALTIES"

After addressing scathing remarks to all prisoners in turn, Vishinsky concluded his speech for the prosecution by exhorting the judges, if necessary, to invoke unflinchingly the severest penalties.

Monkhouse, he said, had admitted collecting information, sabotage and bribery, though he called the bribes presents. To Thornton, the pale-faced engineer, whose implacability has been one of the features of the trial, the prosecutor said: "We shall unmask you like we did Monkhouse, Thornton and Nordwell."

Details of the proceedings not contained in the story above were given in the following Associated Press-Canadian Press dispatch, sent at an earlier hour:

Moscow, April 17.—Prosecutor Andrei Vishinsky today recommended dismissal of the charges against Albert W. Gregory, but insisted on the conviction of the five other British engineers of the Metropolitan-Vickers company as "spies, saboteurs and bribers."

The prosecutor also asked mercy for two of the eleven Russian defendants—one of the two being Madame Anna Kytzova—on the ground that they had partially redeemed themselves by betraying the other defendants.

He demanded the "highest penalty" for Vassil Gusev.

SOVIET JUSTICE

"The penalty for these offences is shooting, and the crimes deserve it," Vishinsky declared. "But our justice is Soviet justice. We do not cling too formally to the law."

"Neither do we seek blood or vengeance. Our power is strong and cannot be shaken by these people, but if you consider it necessary to pronounce death, your hands are in our firm."

The hearing was resumed today shortly before noon, when Andrei Vishinsky continued his summing-up of the prosecution's case.

Vishinsky flattered Macdonald, the only one of the English engineers who pleaded guilty, for having "confessed."

"Macdonald is honest—if it is possible to talk about honesty in connection with these people," he was braver than Thornton—this Mesopotamian soldier," declared the prosecutor.

AT MOSCOW PLANT

Vishinsky charged Cushman with ignoring the working of turbine No. 2 at the chief Moscow electric station, which supplied industrial activities around Moscow.

"He didn't care whether it worked badly," said Vishinsky, and added the "wreckers" had their own "five-year plan" at the Moscow station. The sabotaging had continued from 1928 to 1933, he said.

The prosecutor depicted Macdonald as an experienced secret service agent, cleverer than the rest, while for some of the statements made in the court by Thornton, Vishinsky termed them merely "child's play and nonsense."

NOT CLEAR

Among observers some confusion existed regarding Vishinsky's reference yesterday to "disturbing charges" against Thornton and Macdonald. There were those who believed he used the term in referring "disturbing charges" of the Russian prisoners.

"The prosecution had surplus evidence against Charles Nordwell, another engineer," continued Vishinsky, who declared the accused had made four mistakes in giving evidence about a fur coat he had given A. T. Lobanov, whom he called "nasty and dirty."

The prosecutor dismissed the Russian prisoners by quickly differentiating their degrees of culpability.

He concluded his summing-up for the noon adjournment by declaring all the prisoners—except Gregory—were guilty under article 58, which carried a maximum sentence of shooting. Failure of their intentions, however, was a mitigating circumstance, he said.

ALABAMA TRIAL IS POSTPONED

With One Negro Sentenced to Death, Eight Others Remanded By Judge

Decatur, Ala., April 17.—Trial of eight negroes charged with attacking two white women on a freight train near Scottsboro, Ala., nearly two years ago, was postponed indefinitely today by Judge James E. Horton after he had scored a purported criticism of Alabama jurymen in a published statement attributed to Samuel Liebowitz, chief of defense counsel.

This action came after Judge Horton had sentenced Heywood Patterson, first of the negroes to be tried the second time and convicted, to die in the electric chair, June 16.

Judge Horton from the bench read from The Decatur Daily, published here, a statement from Attorney-General Thomas E. Knight of Alabama, taking issue with a purported statement of Liebowitz as printed in The New York Herald-Tribune.

This printed statement quoted Liebowitz as follows:

"If you ever saw those creatures; those bigots, whose mouths are like yours, whose chins droop tobacco juice, bewhiskered and filthy, you would not ask how they could do it."

This statement was said to have been made in response to a question as to how the jury, trying the negro Heywood Patterson, had found him guilty of murder.

QUESTIONS OF INFLUENCE

"I do not know whether the leading counsel for the defendant made the statement imputed to him," Judge Horton said. "I am not stating he did, but so far as it might influence this trial, it could make little difference whether he actually said it or not. The effect will be the same. The published statement was uncalculated for."

"No court regardless of its duty to see that trials must be fair and impartial could under such baneful influences permit the trial of this case to proceed," he said.

Thereafter becomes the unquestioned duty of this court at the present time to enter of its own motion a continuance of this case until such time as in its judgment a fair and impartial trial may be had."

DESCRIBED AS FAIR

Attorney-General Knight, on his feet immediately, in a voice shaking with emotion, he said: "The state of Alabama conducted a fair trial of Heywood Patterson. I as a representative of the state of Alabama conducted a fair trial."

"I cannot stand by and hear that jury maligned. No, we aren't biased in the south. We tried these cases fairly in Jackson County and we tried them fairly here."

"I quite agree with the court that no fair trial could be held," said Joseph S. Brodsky, chief of defense counsel, in the absence of Liebowitz, who was expected here to-morrow. "I don't believe Mr. Liebowitz made that statement."

Mr. Liebowitz's view is that in Decatur and the South the white workers are imbued with the idea of white supremacy, and that only in union of the white and negro workers warring against the ruling class can they gain their ends."

CONVICTED MAN PROTESTS

Before he sentenced Heywood Patterson to be executed June 16, the judge asked him if he had anything to say.

"I did not get a fair trial," Patterson said.

Defense Counsel Brodsky gave notice of an appeal to the Supreme Court, which on March 24, 1932, affirmed the death sentence passed on the negroes at their first trial.

A request was made that the bailiff and the jury for the Patterson trial be recalled. "We have information the jury received telephone calls while in the trial," Brodsky said.

"The court will ascertain that," Judge Horton said, and sent for E. R. Brittain, bailiff for the Patterson jury. There was little apparent interest in the "Scottsboro case" here as Charlie Weems, second of the negroes indicted for an attack on the two white girls, faced trial. Only Weems and Patterson of the nine negroes indicted were brought here.

Calgary Single Men Protest Being Cut Off Relief Because of Strike Sympathies

Canadian Press

Calgary, April 17.—The central council of unemployed of Calgary has wired Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Agriculture, protesting against single unemployed being cut off relief because of their sympathies with unemployed married men strikers.

W. A. Gordon, Minister of Agriculture, and leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, was sent a message urging that he bring the question before the Commons.

According to Col. E. G. Sanders, member of the Alberta relief commission, a group of single unemployed has been cut off relief for picketing the unemployed married men's strike. The married workless men went on strike April 2, refusing to appear at jobs to work out their relief because they objected to the city implementing the lower summer relief schedule. City officials maintain only a few men have headed the strike call.

LONDON GETS QUEEREST HATS

By LADY MAYFAIR

London.—At the Maison Arthur spring dress show I saw an amusing variety of hats. The most popular and the most becoming were those resembling hats worn by Alpine climbers in the Tyrol. Mannish, pulled down to the front and over one eye, and with a little feather jutting up at the back.

Some of the others were:

A hat like a cake that has risen badly, with the crust tipped high up and off at one side.

Varied a little and with artificial flowers growing in the centre of the crown, were the same hats now looking like flower pots.

A modified Dutch girl's hat of stiff white straw.

A farmer's wide straw hat, with exaggerated dip to side and front.

Tangerine was the favorite spring color of this house, and it combined beautifully with grey—in suits and in evening gowns.

The cape sleeve is still greatly used in coats and wraps for the spring. All the sleeves are extremely short, some being just a little cape-effect drop over the shoulder.

Skirts flare at the bottom, being a little bit longer for afternoon wear.

Stiff, wide collars and cuffs with navy blue dress are being taken up now by many dressmakers.

Wide belts appear on every belted model.

Red, white and blue ropes of cotton chenille were used to dress the neck of a sports frock of white lacquered linen.

Plain chiffon is put over lacquered satin for evening frocks, giving the effect of looking into water through a glass bowl. The fashion for "wet" looking fabrics still continues.

New buttons are large and round—in white, or pastel colors like tidley-winks.

Dartmouth, N.S., Police Inquiring Whether Laborer Was Attempting Robbery

Dartmouth, N.S., April 17.—To his aged parents, Earl Francis Wells, who lost his life yesterday, was a young man who simply tried to get into the wrong house at night.

Boys who shot him were the thirty-year-old laborer's body, he was a burglar.

Police were considering both angles to-day as they investigated the death of Wells, killed as he crouched on the porch of a house outside the downtown area of Dartmouth.

Slugs from Boland's gun, drilled a clean six-inch hole in the window pane. The bullets struck Wells in the back, piercing his heart.

Rome, April 17.—Appointment of Finance Minister Guido Jung to represent Italy in the preliminary world economic conference in Washington was regarded to-day in business circles as an indicator foreshadowing Italy's ideas at the conference.

Signor Jung is not only a banker of international experience, but an international commerce expert. He headed the National Export Institute from 1927 until last year.

Business men say this means he not only will be in a position to discuss debts, but also international trade agreements, tariffs and monetary accords.

Signor Jung will be called on to interpret the new Italian attitude that the most favored nation treaties must be replaced by individual negotiations among nations.

That Signor Jung will go to Washington with full bargaining powers is seen in a statement by Minister of Agriculture Baron Acerbo to the Senate: "The present situation was adversely foreseen by the Fascist government when it stipulated the new conventions of last year should permit us before summer to denounce existing treaties, so we are free for tariff negotiations before the end of the year."

Baron Acerbo expressed Italy's opposition to contingent restrictions or quotas on foreign commerce. "The system of contingents, in addition to being opposed to our policy on exchanges, will not allow or assure the hoped-for betterment of prices," he said.

Under-Secretary Aquilino argues international debts cannot be paid other than with merchandise and services. This, he said, would be one of the Italian arguments.

Italy has a large surplus of olive oil, artificial silk, tomato and straw products and wine which she would like to see the United States take off her hands in compensation for a reduction in the Italian debt to the United States, now slightly more than $2,000,000,000.

SEAWAY PACT DIVIDES U.S. SENATORS' VIEWS

Washington, April 17.—The St. Lawrence Seaway Treaty with Canada today was assailed in the United States Senate by Huey Long, Democrat, Louisiana, after Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, had moved to refer to the foreign relations committee a resolution covering the allocation of power between the United States Government and New York state.

In a quarrel over whether to refer the resolution to the foreign relations or commerce committee last week, the Senate wound up with the measure still on the calendar desk.

Senator La Follette's renewal of the suggestion of Chairman Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, that it go to the foreign relations committee, led Senator Long to observe:

"When we get this treaty adopted, the only thing for us people in New York and the Mississippi Valley to do will be to move to Canada."

"There'll be nothing but Canadian ports for America anyway."

PLEDGE ALLEGIANCE

Residents of Changli, who were captured to-day, were reported pledging allegiance to the Japanese-sponsored Manchukuo government in Manchuria.

A party of foreigners was in Peking, one of the towns between Chinwangtao and Changli, when the troops advanced on that place and they hurriedly returned to Peking. Buildings throughout the area were reported being leveled by Japanese bombers and artillery.

The Chinese military command here to-day charged Japanese fliers had bombed a Chinese Red Cross unit in the neighborhood of Kupeikow, a Great Wall pass sixty-five miles northeast of Peking. Several Red Cross workers were reported killed.

DISCUSS NEW PENSION BASIS

Ottawa, April 17.—Nature of sacrifices which Canadian war veterans may eventually be required to make in connection with war pensions has not yet been determined and will be a matter of negotiations between the government and the veterans, it was learned here to-day.

For the present year, however, the veterans and their families are expected to be as they can reasonably be expected to go in approving the proposal by which income tax will be applied to pensions and a "deduction" established for the support of dependents in the pension roster.

"Given another year in which to act, we will be able to explore the whole situation and secure a consensus of opinion all over the country," one high official of an ex-service men's association said. "One thing we do insist on, however, is that there shall be equality of sacrifice among all classes of citizens in Canada."

Within the bosom of war veterans, he said, there still rankled the "injustice" of tax-free war bonds and the matter of huge profits made during the war by government contractors.

U.S. House Votes For New Ban On Gun Exportation

Washington, April 17.—The United States House of Representatives to-day adopted the arms embargo resolution, granting President Roosevelt power to prevent shipment of arms to warring nations.

The resolution now goes to the Senate, where considerable opposition has been indicated.

In the House, Republicans, led by Representative Hamilton Fish of New York, ranking minority member of the Foreign Affairs Committee, failed in an effort to send the resolution back to the committee with instructions to modify it.

Debate on the resolution, requested by Secretary of State Hull and sponsored by both the Hoover and Roosevelt administrations, was concluded last Friday.

Man Held in Tacoma Accused of Sharing in Hold-up in Vancouver

Canadian Press

Vancouver, April 17.—Wallie Doe, alias Wallace, alias Jackson, arrested with five other men by police of Washington and Oregon, was identified in a public line-up in Tacoma, Wash., yesterday, as one of two bandits who held up the paymaster's staff of the Empire Stevedoring Company at 325 Howe Street, here on April 7, and escaped with a payroll of $7,200.

Carl Brehan, alias "Bingo," who has been identified from photographs here on Friday as one of the bandits, was not picked out by witnesses at the Tacoma line-up.

The identification of Doe was made by Percy Thompson, paymaster of the stevedoring company, who, with two assistants faced the bandits' guns and was obliged to turn over the company's payroll to them.

Brehan's photograph was picked out last Friday by H. Drinkwater, company employee, and Col. R. D. Williams, Vancouver harbor commissioner, who arrived at the scene of the robbery and was kept under the threat of the gunmen's weapons.

The six men in custody in Tacoma are charged with a payroll robbery there on March 18, when $4,500 was taken.

News of the identification was sent to Vancouver by Chief John Cameron, who, with Detective J. Morrison, escorted the witnesses to Portland, Ore., and Tacoma.

TACOMA HEARING FIRST

It is expected the charge against Doe and the others in Tacoma will be dropped before an attempt is made to extradite him to Vancouver. He was taken into custody at Vancouver, Wash., on Friday, as a result of cooperation between all police bodies of the northwest.

According to the police of Tacoma and Portland, the arrested men confessed to holding up a bank at Philomath, Ore., on March 7, and offered to plead guilty to a charge involving that robbery in the hope of extradition to Washington State.

Local police have evidence a part of the gang was in Vancouver at the time of the robbery of the stevedoring company and have located the rooms where the men stayed.

MAN ON PORCH SHOT TO DEATH

Dartmouth, N.S., April 17.—To his aged parents, Earl Francis Wells, who lost his life yesterday, was a young man who simply tried to get into the wrong house at night.

Boys who shot him were the thirty-year-old laborer's body, he was a burglar.

Slugs from Boland's gun, drilled a clean six-inch hole in the window pane. The bullets struck Wells in the back, piercing his heart.

PENSIONS ARE TOPIC OF DEBATE

If Reduced, All Citizens Should Make Sacrifice, Says Canadian Legion Head

London, Ont., April 17.—With the general economic and financial fabric in Canada in a state of crisis, war veterans of this country within the next twelve months may be called on to make "some sacrifice." Such a step must only be consented to, however, on one condition—that there is no discrimination, and that all citizens will at the same time make an equal sacrifice.

This, in effect, was a statement made by Major John S. Roper of Halifax, Dominion president of the Canadian Legion, when he addressed a mass meeting here Saturday.

He was firm in the belief pensions of ex-soldiers "should be the last thing to be touched" when reduction in public expenditures was being considered.

On the subject of Rhodes budget proposal to suspend the pensions of civil servants while they were in the full time employ of the government, Major Roper said he had no public statement, but I hope before the next week is out that provision will be withdrawn from the budget.

NEW SCHOOLS FOR MEXICAN INDIANS

Tucked away in the valleys of the Sierra Madre Mountains of Southern Chihuahua, Mexico, live the Tsalutimara Indians, who will be brought closer to civilization by the introduction of schools during the coming year, reports the Pan-American Information Service. These Indians are peaceful and have never taken part in the turmoil of the revolution as did the Yaquis, who live to the west. They are noted for their simple craftsmanship and for their astonishing long-distance runners. All of the longer distance events have been won by representatives of this race.

CARDINAL AT QUEBEC RITES

Archbishop Villeneuve, Recently Elevated By Pope, Celebrates Mass

Quebec, April 17.—In the gothic marble and gold church on the brow of old Quebec's promontory, where in 1600 Mathurin Villeneuve married Jeanne Chauvet and became the founder of the Villeneuve family in Canada, Cardinal Jean Marie Rodrigue Villeneuve yesterday celebrated pontifical high mass. As Canada's fourth cardinal he delivered his first official message to all Canadian Roman Catholics since his elevation to the cardinalate in Vatican City, March 13.

From the front pews clerical and lay officials, representatives of governments, the bench, the bar and the professions followed his every move. A gray-haired man and a little elderly woman sat partly concealed by a column. They were the cardinal's cobbler father and his mother.

THE LESSON
The cardinal's high clear voice rang out from the pulpit. He spoke a message of faith. "The supreme lesson we must learn from this ceremony," he said, "this ceremony to welcome a new prince of the church, is the lesson of eternal devotion to the church, her doctrines, and her Pope. And I make of myself his faithful servant in giving to you and to Canada as a whole his most precious and most paternal benediction."

The forty-nine-year-old cardinal then left the pulpit, completed the mass and retired to his palace.

The old cathedral was the scene on Saturday of the cardinal's liturgical reception which followed a welcome tendered by thousands.

Liberals Criticize Proposals For Saskatchewan and Quebec; M.P.'s Will Resume Work To-morrow After Easter Recess

Ottawa, April 17.—Parliament will swing into the final lap of the session when the Commons resumes work to-morrow after the short Easter recess. There are conflicting forecasts of the probable length of the session, but it is agreed much depends on the report of the committee redistributing representation in the Commons. Liberals are said to be critical of the proposals for Saskatchewan and Quebec and there are reports of a protracted fight on the floor of the House which might add many days to the length of the session.

There still remain on the order paper several contentious measures. Details of the Rhodes budget must be discussed in the committee stage and this is expected to produce the fireworks which were lacking in the budget debate.

The government bill to establish a board of trustees for the Canadian National Railways is another contentious measure awaiting progress. Estimates of departments must be passed almost entirely.

VETERANS INTERESTED
Proceedings this week hold special interest for war veterans. Early in the week Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, will announce the government's decision in connection with the payment of pensions to veterans in the civil service, and Hon. Murray MacLaren, Minister of Pensions and National Health, will introduce a bill amending the Pensions Act.

In his budget speech, Mr. Rhodes indicated pensioners in the government's employ would have to forego their pensions or take cuts in salary equal to the amount of the pensions. Since then some modification of the original proposal has been freely forecast and Mr. Rhodes has promised an early announcement.

The pension law amendments will likely be based on the recommendations of the royal commission which studied the working of the Pensions Act last year.

WASHINGTON CONFERENCE
Premier Bennett's coming visit to Washington was the topic of much speculation as members of the Commons reassembled to-day after the Easter recess. It is expected the Premier will go to the republic's capital about April 15 to confer with President Roosevelt on international economic problems. His visit will coincide with that of Premier MacDonald of the United Kingdom.

W. J. DARBY OF TORONTO DIES

Toronto, April 17.—William James Darby, dean of The Toronto Mail and Empire staff, of which he had been a member for fifty years, died suddenly yesterday in the Toronto General Hospital. He was sixty-seven years of age. When he was seventeen years old Mr. Darby joined the staff of the old Toronto Mail in the business department. He rose to the post of circulation manager and twenty years ago became treasurer, a post he held until his death.

Other deaths reported by the Canadian Press in dispatches yesterday and to-day included:

Toronto—E. J. Lennox, seventy-five, city architect, a former member of the Toronto Transportation Commission.

SIMPLE RITES AT JERUSALEM

Easter Services in Ancient City; Pope Says Mass in Rome

Associated Press
Jerusalem, April 17.—Simplicity and the unassuming character of the rites at Easter Sunday services here afforded a vivid contrast to the ornate ceremonies of Saturday, when the Greek Orthodox community celebrated the ceremony of Holy Fire, the most spectacular of Easter observances.

The weather was sunny and beautiful. All churches of all denominations were crowded.

Shortly after sun-up, many Anglican Christians attended an impressive service at the Garden Tomb, which is believed by many to be the real sepulchre and which was discovered by General Gordon, later hero of Khartoum.

SCENES IN ROME
Rome, April 17.—Practically all Rome knelt at noon yesterday when, for the first time in more than three-score years, a Pope imparted the Easter benediction to his diocese from the balcony of St. Peter's.

A hundred thousand jammed the XI before the huge crowd that thronged St. Peter's Square, church bells in Rome rang out in unison. It was a signal for all the faithful to kneel and receive the blessing. In churches, homes, and even in the streets people stooped in reverence.

A hundred thousand jammed the Basilica Square to be present at the ceremony. Fifty thousand crowded into the great cathedral for Easter Mass, which the Pope himself said, following a custom not observed since 1870.

Shouts of "Viva il Papa!" burst from the crowd when the Pope appeared from a balcony near the main doors.

BRILLIANT SPECTACLE
Attendees arrayed in flaming red carried the portable throne on which Pope Pius, in white and with the papal tiara on his head, was seated. On the fourth finger of his right hand he wore the papal ring with its large topaz. His Holiness appeared in the best of health, despite his nearly seventy-six years.

The crowd knelt as Pope Pius passed, holding up his right hand and imparting the blessing in a quiet but clear voice.

Once at the papal altar at the end of the hall, The Pope descended from the chair to say Mass.

After Mass, the procession reformed, and escorted the Pontiff to the balcony.

Blowing of silver trumpets again announced the Pope's appearance, this time to the populace in the open. Pilgrims had journeyed from many parts of the globe to witness the event.

IN ULSTER
Belfast, Northern Ireland, April 17.—The Ulster government's prohibition of exercises to commemorate previous Easter uprisings was effective yesterday except in County Tyrone.

There, despite extraordinary precautions, a parade of 200 members of the Irish Republican Army was conducted to the Mount Joy-Cool Island Cemetery, where prayers were recited in Gaelic.

Joseph McCurk of Belfast started to deliver an oration, but police arrived in time to interrupt him. McCurk was taken to the police station.

The day passed quietly in Belfast.

Sect in Southern Colorado Undergoes Scourging During Lent

By Shelby Thompson, Associated Press Staff Writer

Denver, Colo., April 17.—The Holy Zeal of the Penitentes was splashed in blood on jagged rocks in the wilderness of southern Colorado and northern New Mexico yesterday as their weird Lenten ceremonies were climaxed.

As Easter's sun struck glory to the towering Sancre de Cris in the Rocky Mountains, this strange cult that has kept a foothold among the Indians in the western United States for 350 years, concluded forty days of sanguinary worship in secret mountain fastnesses.

Known as the "Association of the Blood of Our Christ," the men of the Penitentes meet every other Friday during the forty days of Lent in an isolated spot or in a sequestered adobe hut. Before sunrise, after a fast of three days, the men of the association are said and offerings of miniature images of saints are brought.

Stripped bare to the waists and wearing only cotton trunks, the men whip themselves unmercifully with frails made from fine-cut blades of the sorghum. Often they gouge their backs with broken glass before beginning the flagellations.

MARCH TO CROSS

On these Fridays they march in procession to a cross, set on a hill hundreds of yards away. They take three steps, kneel and whip themselves three times, repeating this until they arrive at their goal. There they kneel again and pray before returning to the original spot in the same manner.

On Good Friday, as for years past, the strange Christians chose the holiest of their number to carry a heavy cross to a designated site. He represents the Saviour.

Bearing the cross and wearing a crown of prickly-pear cactus, his feet hampered by heavy chains, the "savior" brother started his tortuous journey to the selected Calvary.

He fell three times before reaching the destination and was scourged each time until he rose.

When the trip was concluded, the bearer of the cross was hoisted to his recent burden and tied there with heavy ropes. Many years ago these men were left "crucified" for hours, sometimes to die. Last Friday the man was removed after a short time and revived.

GREAT SUMS IN BEER SALES

Much Revenue Goes to Governments in United States

By R. H. Ippelheuser, Associated Press Staff Writer

New York, April 17.—The first week of 3.2 per cent beer poured millions of dollars into the coffers of government and increased the commerce of the United States. Beer production was clogged with unfilled orders.

A survey of the states permitting beer sales showed the federal government, in its first week, had collected upward of $4,000,000 from barrel taxes and licenses. Congestion in a few states prevented federal collectors from computing the revenues.

The revenue of state governments was put at more than $2,000,000 by officials. However, some states allowed sales although they had not yet set up licensing and taxing methods.

Bulk of the week's revenue went to the municipalities. Chicago collected $480,000 in license fees, and New York $450,000.

Labor departments were unable to tally up fast enough the thousands returned to work. New York City brewers put more than 2,500 men back on jobs; Chicago, 2,000; Milwaukee, 2,500; Pittsburgh, 2,500.

Elsewhere throughout the land brew-ers reported more than 10,000 men had been taken from the ranks of unemployed to supply the demand for the newly legalized beverage, while the estimate of those obtaining employment in other lines as a direct result of 3.2 beer ran into the tens of thousands.

Will Co-operate With Communists

Derby, Eng., April 17.—The Independent Labor Party yesterday voted to approach the Communist International with a view to co-operation, but not actual affiliation. The decision was reached at the annual conference of the party by a vote of 83 to 79.

Derby, Eng., April 17.—The Independent Labor Party declared to-day it would go all in its power to resist any attempt to strangle the progress of Soviet Russia.

In conference here delegates of the party voiced strong opposition to the anti-Russian viewpoints and pledged themselves to agitate for a general strike to restrain the British Government in the event of any attempt to make war on Russia.

NAIROBI DEATH IS INVESTIGATED

Canadian Press

Nairobi, Kenya Colony, April 17.—Police to-day were investigating the fatal shooting of a young man who called himself "Sir" Ronald Turnover Brewer and whose immigration papers bore what was believed to be a Montreal address. The body of the man was found Friday. Apparently he had committed suicide.

Last Thursday Brewer was married to Miss Marjory Smith, related by marriage to Sir Joseph A. Byrne, Governor-General of Kenya. Police learned Brewer's bride ran away from his hotel and went without her husband's knowledge to friends at Thika, near here. Brewer spent Thursday and Friday looking for her and even called at Governor's House.

Electricity Charges Are Lifted For April By Commission

Canadian Press

Ottawa, April 17.—Customers of the Ottawa Hydro-Electric Power Commission will have no electricity bills to pay for April if a decision of the local commission is approved by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission. At a meeting Saturday the commission decided to send customers receipts in full for the April charges instead of bills, and in addition to reduce the charge to the city for street lighting by $20,000.

The commission had previously turned down a proposal of Mayor J. J. Allen that $100,000 should be paid from Hydro's surplus account to the city to assist the taxpayers in this period of financial stress.

IT PAYS TO PROTECT THE HEALTH OF THE HUMAN ASSET

The members of the Vancouver City Council were told the other day by Dr. W. H. Hatfield, head of the city health department's tuberculosis division, that there were 1,200 known cases of tuberculosis in the city besides 400 suspects and hundreds of contacts. The Vancouver Daily Province has taken particular notice of this statement and says there can be no defence which will stand examination for a tuberculosis rate as large as that, particularly when the city of Portland, Oregon, very similar to Vancouver in size and population, and only a few hundred miles away, has half Vancouver's rate.

Since it always seems to be a very difficult job to get sufficient money to wage the fight against tuberculosis, it was natural that Dr. Hatfield should remind the Vancouver City Council of the very serious economic loss attributable to the disease. In the city itself there were 165 cases of tuberculosis in hospital—which means that the disease has reached the advanced or practically incurable stage with them—and 155 cases at Tranquille. The cost to the taxpayers alone of caring for these patients is approximately $300,000 a year, besides the cost of maintaining their dependents.

As Dr. Hatfield told the City Council, the disease is preventable, and that, with adequate organization and continued work, the tuberculosis rate in Vancouver could be substantially reduced. This truth has been stated time and time again; but there still seems to be an idea in the mind of a section of the public that tuberculosis is a malady that should be discussed in whispers, something that is unavoidable and about which very little can be done. This is sheer nonsense. A comparison of the toll taken by tuberculosis in recent years compared with the toll of twenty-five years ago indicates the progress which has been made in preventing and curing the disease.

Tuberculosis, however, must be vigorously attacked once it has taken hold of its victim. It can not be cured by half measures, and it very often happens that a sufferer must change his or her employment entirely after the malady has been arrested if the improvement in his or her condition is to be maintained. Unfortunately so many who undergo a short period of institutional treatment are compelled by the force of financial circumstances to return to the very conditions and employment in which the disease was contracted. In most cases this simply means a recurrence with less physical vitality with which to combat it. They get into the advanced stage and wait for the end with as much philosophical resignation as they are able to command.

Our Vancouver contemporary very properly remarks that it would be much better both from the business as well as the humane point of view to spend more money on prevention measures than on attempts to cure. The original objective of the work at the provincial institution at Tranquille was to treat cases in the incipient stage, patients who had an excellent chance to recover. But the accommodation there is wholly inadequate to meet the demands made upon it by this type of patient.

We get a better idea of the situation in British Columbia from the fact that the number of deaths from tuberculosis in this province in 1931 was 659, yet the number of beds in sanatoria and hospital wings totals only 509. Official statistics at the Parliament Buildings, moreover, show that there are between 4,000 and 5,000 cases of T.B. in various stages in British Columbia at the present time. The Dominion's report for 1931 tells of a death toll of 7,628, or only 119 less than the number of beds for the tuberculous in the whole of the country.

It is worth repeating that the country's most valuable asset is the human asset. Governments would be investing public money well by providing adequate funds to preserve the health of those who in so many cases die of a disease that no longer is the terror of mankind that it once was—a disease which is preventable.

CONFLICTING REPORTS CONTINUE TO COME OUT OF RUSSIA

The report comes from Russia that there will be no wheat in that country this year for export. Mr. Gareth Jones, a former secretary to Mr. Lloyd George, says the cry he heard as he visited many farms and villages of the Soviet domain was: "There is no bread; we are dying!" Mr. Jones heard this cry from the Volga district; from Siberia, from White Russia, from Central Asia and from the Ukraine black-dirt country.

Some correspondents who are living permanently in Russia contradict the narrative which Mr. Jones has related. The government at Moscow, while admitting there has been a serious food shortage, brands the tale that thousands are dying of starvation as "nonsensical." It disputes entirely the statement that famine exists at all.

The official denial of what Mr. Jones relates, however, ought to be taken in conjunction with the fact that about the middle of last month seventy high officials of the People's Commissariat of Agriculture had been arrested in Moscow, thirty-five of them being executed, while others were stiffly punished. Their offence was described officially as "counter-revolution through malignant and deliberate sabotage of agriculture in the Ukraine, in the Northern Caucasus, and in White Russia."

Another side of the story is published in "Din," a moderate Socialist Russian weekly, edited in Paris by Kerensky, former Premier of Russia's provisional government, which is credited to its secret correspondent in Moscow. It follows:

In the Volga regions, in the Ukraine, and in the Northern Caucasus one now sees what one saw there during the famine of 1921, with this difference, that, in 1921, people starved and died passively and silently, while now the spirit of hunger riots dominates among them.

They attack trains transporting food supplies, destroy and burn the government food stores, and between those of them who are starving and those who are relatively well fed a pitiless, cruel struggle is going on.

The local Soviet authorities in the provinces have completely lost their heads.

The orders which they receive from the central government are obviously senseless. Not to carry them out means to run the risk of being upbraided; to carry them out may mean to be punished later on when their absurdity becomes obvious for "deliberate sabotage and counter-revolution."

Economic conditions in Canada may not be as satisfactory as they might be, but not many Canadian people would prefer to live in Russia rather than in this country. Nobody can look at death by famine without being moved. Certainly if Russia has not enough wheat to permit export this year, however, there will be plenty of Canadian wheat available.

EXPERT AID FOR THE AMATEUR GARDENER

Many Victoria homes and gardens will come in for a good deal of attention within the next few weeks and amateur gardeners will naturally strive for the maximum of color and general artistic effect. It is to be noted that the Canadian Horticultural Council at Ottawa is making a special appeal this year to all householders to beautify their grounds, no matter whether they be spacious or merely of the miniature variety, and in conjunction with the Dominion Department of Agriculture it has issued a booklet on the subject. The author is M. H. Howitt, an expert horticulturist and landscape gardener, and it may be obtained from the department. He explains in simple form the principles of landscape gardening and gives advice as to the kind of trees, shrubs and herbaceous plants best suited to the different provinces, and which may be obtained in the Dominion. The title of the booklet is "Beautifying the Home Grounds of Canada." Much work now could be done locally by those who are depending on the Victoria Emergency Employment Campaign for employment.

CAN CANADA AFFORD THE MONEY AT THIS TIME?

News from Washington indicates that the treaty between Canada and the United States for the deepening of the St. Lawrence will be ratified by the Senate at the present session of Congress. It was signed by both countries in July last year; but the Canadian Parliament made it clear at the time that it would not proceed with its ratification until it had been approved by the United States Senate.

At the moment there is a resolution in the Senate designed definitely to fix the status of the State of New York with respect to the power that will be developed under the project. The object of the resolution is protection of the state's right to developed power, and the prohibition of any except public bodies benefiting by the ultimate sale of the power.

It is expected that private interests will do everything possible to prevent the passage of any measure that would deny them potentially large profits. During his campaign last year, however, Mr. Roosevelt declared that any action on this matter by a government under his leadership would have as a definite part of it the protection of the public in the disposal of power. There is no indication that he has changed his attitude and it is predicted the resolution setting out this policy will be acceptable to a sufficient majority to get it passed.

The view taken by many Senators at Washington is that the St. Lawrence deepening undertaking would provide a large amount of employment; they are in favor of getting on with the job. While there are opponents of the project both in Canada and the United States, the majority in both countries appear to consider it good business.

The vital point as far as the Dominion is concerned is the cost it would involve. Public finances in Canada at the present time are not sufficiently healthy to warrant expenditure upon anything that is not immediately pressing or necessary. We hope this will be only a temporary condition; but it exists and can not be ignored.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

CANADIAN PREMIER
The Montreal Transcript

It has been suggested that the opposition in the Canadian Parliament should be as considerate of Premier Bennett and as ready to co-operate with him as Republican leaders in the United States have shown themselves in their attitude toward President Roosevelt. If Premier Bennett had shown as much initiative in the two years he has been in office as President Roosevelt has in a little more than two weeks, he might expect more support. The Canadian Premier has accomplished little that is constructive, and has done much to make a bad situation worse.

SUGAR
The London Advertiser

The public is interested mainly or largely in the expedients for raising more money. The tax that will be most burdensome to most people, for no one can escape it, will be the special excise tax of two cents a pound on refined sugar. The price has been always propped by tariffs, and for two years has been subject to the special excise tax of one to three per cent, but the increase of this tax to two cents a pound is a load upon the consumer, and a burden upon the producer. The larger the family the harder it will be to bear.

By H. B. W.

AFTER STORM

AFTER SIX weeks of airy abstractions in the Legislature, it is pleasant to get your feet upon the solid ground of British Columbia again. After our clumsy efforts to save the people, to improve them and to fool them, it is good for the soul to mind the people themselves and find out just how little attention they pay to us here at the seat of government. For the capital, of course, is the very worst place from which to judge the temper of the people, and one can almost say, after coming back to it, that Victoria is not in British Columbia at all.

The other day I was up the island. I hasten to add that I am not going to record the political sentiments observed there, lest you think me too violent and prejudiced an advocate of the Dominion Government—or vice versa. Anyway, I found things much more interesting. For example, they invited me to a board of trade banquet in Courtenay, in that Native Sons Hall which is probably the most gigantic structure of untrammelled log in existence. I went, and in the hospitality they are not particular whom they invite to board of trade banquets in Courtenay, and I am never particular about attending such banquets anywhere. However, Jack Paterson, the able young author who lives up in the woods there, put the life of Vancouver Island into fiction, dragged me along. He said I would see something interesting, which seemed improbable, but, as I was so tired after a day in the woods, I couldn't resist.

MUSIC

WELL, just as I was becoming sodden with good home cooking and homespun oratory, about thirty fellows filed into the back of the hall, just such fellows as you would see in a country town—the butcher, the baker, the candlestick-maker, a sprinkling of stump farmers and a few storekeepers. They had that tanned, healthy, rough and ready, bagging-at-the-knees, clean look about them which you find in real British Columbians. In fellows more comfortable if working clothes; a very good cross-section, I should say, of this province. When I was told that this was the men's choir, I looked for a convenient exit but, finding none, had to sit there getting more sodden all the time.

Presently they stood up and began to sing, led by a little chap from down Roppy. (They said he was a photographer by occupation, but he had the soul of a great musician). I have never heard such singing as came from the mouths of this little choir. As you looked at them, the butcher, the baker, the candlestick-maker, the logger and the stump farmer, you could hardly believe your eyes. If you closed your eyes you could almost imagine that the music came from some angel choir in the clouds. And the little leader vibrated and trembled incredibly with the feeling of the music, and his face twisted with alternate ecstasy and agony, marvellous to behold. These fellows had won the prize in the Victoria Music Festival was of no particular importance to outsiders, though it meant a lot up here. What interested me was this little segment of the rough but strangely rich and satisfying life of British Columbia. Beyond the end of the pavement, outside the vision of the fire department, whose name is of statehappiness altogether, they still sing through the depression.

OLD RESIDENT

THAT SAME day we had gone out into the big woods on a logging train with a crew of lumberjacks, who looked about as hard-boiled and ruthless in their destruction of the forest as they could be.

Yet, on the return journey, the locomotive engineer, under the guise of his engine, had better manners than any gentlemen you are likely to meet in evening clothes at the Empress Hotel, insisted on stopping his train of twenty log-laden cars so that we could examine a certain cedar-tree. With as much satisfaction as a naturalist, he showed us a cedar tree sixteen feet through the butt, too big to be cut down, a lonely giant amid the wastage of modern logging all about it. The log scaler, a youngster of heroic build who had studied the sciences at university, said he estimated the age of the cedar at 3,000 years. It has been standing here in this little valley through the whole Christian era, through the entire history of Greece and Rome. All the wars and plagues of men, all the risings and fallings of his many civilizations, have left the old cedar untouched, free to pursue its business in life, to add a tiny ring of wood to its trunk every year.

About 800 years ago, the young scaler said, a forest fire of vast proportions swept this island. The marks of its progress, burned cedar stumps with other huge tree-growing beside them, are apparent from Comox down to Cowichan. But this big cedar and a few others escaped, scattered their seed into the surrounding black waste and produced another forest.

Last of its generation, one of the oldest living things in the world, a little makes all men's works seem pretty small and terribly fleeting. The old cedar is getting near the end now. It is dying, but hard. Part of its sap has been cut off and in its hollow trunk, a hundred feet from the ground, a raccoon is raising her family. Now that the sheltering forest around has been cut down, the wind will probably bowl the big cedar over some night, but its mighty trunk will lie there, sound at heart, for hundreds of years more. It grew for centuries before our race was born. Perhaps the last remnant of it will be here centuries after we have been forgotten. We left it and hauled a hundred of its smaller brothers down to the lake.

NEW TYPE

MOST GLAMOROUS figure in the life of British Columbia undoubtedly is the high ranger of the big woods. This giant with the Greek profile was a choker man a few years ago, which means, as I understand it, that he attached the cables to the logs as they were hauled through the forest, a humble job in the fraternity of the big woods. When the logs were hauled, the high ranger, the aristocrat of the camp, next season, he was rather terrified. He spent the winter climbing all the trees on his father's farm, cutting off their branches, lopping off their tops, zigging them with cables. Next spring he could climb 200 feet as easily as you would climb your cellar stairs, and he would climb them with a rope about the trunk and proceed to cut the top off as neatly as you would take the end off a cigar.

Watch him as he digs his spurs into the bark and moans up, how deftly he slips his rope up the trunk above him, how he comes down in leaps of ten feet at a time. See how he strings mighty cables from the tree top, and then splices these ropes of steel together, a splice of thirty-two feet, in ten minutes. Here, indeed, is an authentic British Columbia character, a new type which we have produced here in our own woods, as distinct and glamorous as the American cowboy or the Russian Cossack. Such men as this, and stump farmers who can sing like angels, are the real stuff and fabric of life in British Columbia, which the outsider seldom sees and the city dweller hardly suspects. And seeing it and knowing it at first hand, the soundness of it and the courage, you come back to the clamorous world of men and the fever of governments, feeling things are going to be all right in spite of our futile efforts to cure them.

Weather Forecast—Victoria and Vicinity—Light or moderate wind, generally fair, with stationary or higher temperature.

Little interest is being taken in the vote on the four money-by-laws to raise money for a salt water high pressure system of fire protection, for additional fire hose and equipment for the fire brigade and for sewer extension and school purposes. Up to 1 o'clock only 265 votes had been cast and W. W. Buchanan, the returning officer, did not expect more than 600 and 700 for the entire poll.

Clifford W. Denham, manager of the Victoria Theatre, and Thomas Fawcett, have returned from a few days' fishing at Duncan.

Yesterday over a ton of halibut was caught on the local banks and to-day is on sale for Good Friday.

The J.B.A.A. is likely to take up baseball as well as the other sports which they have already interested themselves in. A meeting was held last evening in the clubrooms to organize for the season.

Early this morning Ed Whyte went over to Vancouver, taking with him Victoria's champion long distance runner, Frank Baylis, who is entered for the People's Shield five-mile marathon competition. Frank is in first-rate shape, and it is pretty sure that he will bring home a prize of some sort.

THANKS FIRE DEPARTMENT

To the Editor:—I feel that I should express publicly my thanks to the very fine fire department of your city, who did such wonderful work in helping to save the lifelong collection of family treasures I have here, some dating back into the 17th century, on the night of Monday last. Although my burns are not serious, the kind thought of the representatives of the fire department, whose names I do not even know, in giving me oil or something to soothe the smarting pains, and the thorough and humane feelings each and all showed to myself and my Japanese boy, deserves my sincerest thanks. I trust that you can find space in your valuable paper for this letter. My neighbors, the Messrs. Hiscoks, the Messrs. Hiscoks, also Mr. and Mrs. Feden, were so good and kind. One finds friends when in trouble—it does not forget.

GOLF SEMIS ARE GAINED

First and Second Rounds Played in Class B Championship at Uplands

Semi-finals were reached in the class B championship at the Uplands Golf Club yesterday with A. Woodcroft, Major W. C. Angus, Major F. V. Warner and H. Barnes still in the running for the crown. First and second rounds of match play were run off yesterday.

In the qualifying round last Sunday, A. Dowell and H. Barnes tied for the medalist honors. Dowell was eliminated in the first round yesterday morning, losing to A. Woodcroft, 6 and 5. Barnes was more fortunate, scoring a double victory. He engaged in a marathon match in the morning, winning from R. C. Elliott at the twenty-first hole, and defeated S. C. Terrie, 5 and 2, in the afternoon.

Press Advertising Must Be Maintained, Says Bovril Chairman

Doubts the Value of Radio Advertising

Addressing the annual meeting of Bovril Limited in London recently, Lord Luke, chairman of the board, drew particular attention to the fact that, while due economy had been practiced in every other department, they had not diminished their advertising. "We consider it of the utmost importance," he said, "to keep our advertising bright and persistent. At a time when purchasing power in many countries is much reduced, a policy of keeping the virtues of our product well in the public eye meets strongly with your board's approval."

Bovril is sold and advertised all over the world. Those in charge of its sales policies therefore have exceptional opportunities for gauging the benefits to be derived from consistent advertising. Lord Luke and his associates are emphatically not of that school who look upon advertising as a regrettable but necessary expense, and who argue that when sales fall off advertising expenditure should be cut proportionately. On the contrary they maintain that the very time when one should maintain and if possible increase one's own advertising, in other words they believe in capitalizing on a competitor's weakness, and making a bold bid for that portion of his business that has been made vulnerable through his failure to defend it.

Lord Luke's comments on radio as an advertising medium are interesting in view of the policies that our own Canadian Radio Commission are now trying to make effective. "We have not utilized this service," says Lord Luke, "and it would take a great deal of persuasion to induce us to do so. The reader of a newspaper does not need to read the advertisements it carries unless he likes. He can keep himself occupied with the news, or the other or switch off his set. If there is one thing that long experience in advertising has taught us, it is that one must be tactful in one's own country's opinion. One buyer, or one potential buyer, annoyed might well count for more on the debit side than several of the merely interested type on the assets side."

Vancouver Oarsmen Defeat Washington

Seattle, April 17.—Battling rough water and a strong wind, the Vancouver Rowing Club eight-oared crew of Vancouver, B.C., conquered the 150-pound sweepstrokes of the University of Washington by a full length in a one and one-half mile race on the Lake Washington Canal here Saturday.

The Canadians crossed the finish line in 7 minutes 59 seconds, while Washington was clocked in 8:05. The Vancouver oarsmen took the lead with a high sprint at the start, and at the half-way mark they were two lengths in front. The Husky lightweight was a determined effort to catch the Can-

How to Save B.C.'s Millions

By LIEUT. COLONEL R. ROSS NAPIER
(Formerly Department Commissioner)

The action of a child in deceiving itself at solitaire may be defended on the grounds that it does no harm to anyone else, but, in either child or adult, it is hardly a process which can be considered either dignified or desirable. Yet a similar process has, of recent years, been permitted to insinuate itself in the political and financial life of British Columbia. No one can tell to what dangerous extent the process, once permitted, may grow.

The Estimates and the Public Accounts are presumed to be statements of financial facts into which political considerations may not enter: the Budget Speech itself, by tradition, is not supposed to deal with matters political, but, unfortunately, this tradition is more honored in the breach than in the observance. The Public Accounts, compiled by the Comptroller General, are a statement, up to the end of a specific fiscal year, of the financial affairs of the province "in essence"; the Estimates, on the other hand, are a statement of the proposed transactions of the province for the ensuing fiscal year "in posse," and are prepared from the statements of the various departments by the Department of Finance.

The two together are not only financial statements for the information of the Legislature and the people of the province, but also are the integral parts of what might well be termed the "prospective" of the province, on the strength of which its bonds are sold when loans have to be floated to provide for governmental activities. The Public Accounts, as they deal with established facts, naturally must be accepted, but the Estimates, dealing as they do, with possibilities, are a totally different matter. Estimates, at the best, are matters of extreme difficulty. They may be thrown out by the factor of human error; by changing financial and social conditions or by innumerable influences, but, if done by officials having the necessary knowledge and experience, they will, except for extraordinary circumstances, be close enough for all practical purposes.

If, however, after estimates have been constructed by departmental officials having the most intimate knowledge of the possibilities of revenue and expenditure, deductions are made from expenditures which must be met, and additions are made to the amount of revenue which may be reasonably expected from any particular source, merely to make a temporarily better and purely supposititious showing, the whole structure becomes valueless. This does not mean that, as a matter of policy, certain expenditures originally contemplated, may not, quite legitimately, be eliminated if it be definitely decided that the expenditure shall not be incurred. It does mean that every expenditure in any way intended, should appear without deduction in the Estimates submitted to the Legislature. The addition without justification, of amounts, not stated to what extent, to reasonable estimates of revenue, is unspeakably childish and places the Treasury in the position of the child cheating itself at solitaire. It cannot be said, however, that, in this case, no harm does to anyone; the ill effects are many and various.

When unjustifiable cuts are made in expenditures several things may happen, all of them objectionable. The actual necessary expenditure may have to be met by supplementary estimates; the amount of the cut may be met by a reduction in the services of the public service; an effort may be attempted at the collective expense of individuals, or special warrants may have to be issued. One of the most objectionable features is that officials who find that their conscientious estimates are inexorably slashed, although the expenditure must eventually be met, will eventually meet this by overestimating in the hope that the inevitable cut will leave an amount somewhere near that actually required. If, by any chance, the cut leaves an amount in excess of the required, there may be an attempt to conceal the manner of estimating, an endeavor to make up the total amount shown by making expenditures which would have been totally unnecessary, had not proper and business-like method of making estimates been deliberately destroyed.

Fake estimates of revenue may not be so readily concealed. These can be hidden only for a little time. Sometimes some unexpected cause of revenue may partly offset the short-fall, but otherwise it can only be short-by more or less specious excuses on the floor of the Legislature.

As British Columbia has been thrust more deeply into the financial mire there has been an insidious growth in the treatment of estimates, which should have been crushed in its inception. The estimates are the only means by which members of the Legislature may be informed of the intentions of the government during the ensuing fiscal year, and they are presumed to contain every item of contemplated expenditure. Yet, in addition to padding of revenue and under-estimating of expenditure, estimates have been presented to the House unchanged in certain respects, notwithstanding the fact that changes, demanded upon as sound as they are, might prove controversial. If known, have already been arranged to take place immediately after the commencement of the fiscal year. This, of course, has only been in accordance with the increasing secrecy of administrative methods which has characterized the present government.

Some time ago a peer of the realm was sentenced to a term of imprisonment on a charge of having made untrue statements in the prospectus of a company in which he was interested. Yet the estimates, an integral part of the "prospective" of the Province of British Columbia, are apparently made upon as sound a basis which may be juggled with impunity to meet political ends. The people of the province must insist that, in the interests of the province, the legislature and the business-like methods must be restored.

I would suggest that as the juggling with estimates of the province seems unthinkable, methods, hitherto, unthought of, be utilized by way of prevention. Let all departmental estimates be attested by Deputy Ministers, under the Evidence Act. Then let the final estimates presented to the Legislature be similarly attested. Should any Minister of Finance have sufficient confidence in his views to alter the amount estimated by the departments, let it be clearly shown that the estimate is his and is not in accordance with the estimate of the responsible departmental officials. If Deputy Ministers have to take oath as to the accuracy, to the best of their belief, of their estimates, they are not likely to "take the responsibility of advance" a 100,000 or so to their prospective revenue, at the request of the Treasury, so that it may be enabled to make a better showing, and the Treasury will not readily take the responsibility of altering sworn departmental estimates when the Estimates as presented to the Legislature must be similarly attested. If any manipulation or tampering with the responsible officials could be effectively dealt with under the Canada Evidence Act.

The whole subject of estimates is an exceedingly intricate one on which much has been said and written. The words of a famous Premier, and probably Britain's most experienced Chancellor of the Exchequer, are singularly apposite at the present time: "Economy does not consist in the reckless reduction of estimates. On the contrary, such a course almost necessarily tends to increase expenditures. There can be no economy where there is no efficiency."

The present government is called, among other things, a Conservative Government. Whether this is merely because the opposition has been called liberal, or vice versa, I do not think. The government or anyone else knows, as neither party has scope enough to develop characteristics in accordance with its name. As, however, the author I have just quoted was Disraeli, particular attention to his words may be expected from our "Disraeli" of provincial finance, who would do well to "make" learn and inwardly digest. TO SUPPORT
CONVENTIONNorthwest U.S. Canadian Legion Groups Will Back
Gathering Here

Assurance of the support of the northwestern zone of the Canadian Legion in the United States for the provincial convention in Victoria on August 3, 4 and 5 was given to members of the local delegation attending the zone gathering in Seattle on Saturday.

Spokane, Portland, Tacoma, Seattle, Bellingham, Vancouver and Victoria were represented at the gathering of clubs of former Canadian ex-servicemen now resident in the United States. W. G. Stone, sole representative and district president for Victoria, made an urgent appeal to the convention for its support of the August convention here, as did H. Thompson and J. Fox, members of the Victoria convention ways and means committee.

They were promised support from the clubs represented.

Members of the women's auxiliaries of the branches were also in attendance at the gathering.

Discussions of pensionary occupied much of the time of delegates at the meeting. The zone convention body went on record against the recent action of the government in revising pensions downward without the representation of men securing pensions.

The United States groups also asked for consideration from the Canadian body for burying former Canadian ex-servicemen across the line.

T. A. Barnard, president of the provincial command, spoke to the gathering on pension matters and administration, while Mrs. A. McDonald of Revelstoke, British Columbia, president of women's auxiliaries, also spoke.

Not that there is really any greatly increased interest in spiritualism, but a lot of people would like to see the ghosts walk these days.

New York, April 17.—The Jewish court of arbitration yesterday made public a message it sent all Jewish synagogues and societies in New York City recommending that three "re-primands" be taken "if our battle against the unchristianized borders of the Hitler regime is to be victorious." They are:

"1. Every Jewish traveler going for his summer vacation to Europe shall evade Germany. This would deprive the Hitlerites of receiving a few hundred million dollars.

"2. Every Jew in the United States Government must not recognize the German Ambassador to Washington until there will be a statement from the Hitler government that the Jews of Germany will be given equal suffrage with the other natives; or that they be permitted to leave that unfortunate country forthwith.

"3. Every Jewish businessman shall consider it his strongest weapon against the outrages in Germany to boycott German goods and to refuse to accept shipments of German wares of all description."

A RADIANT EASTER BRIDE

MRS. CLARENCE WARREN WRAY (See Brown)

Nuptials At St. Mary's Draw Big Congregation

Miss Doris Brown Lovely
Bride of Mr. Clarence
Wratten Wray

Pretty Easter Wedding Held Saturday Evening; Reception Follows Ceremony

One of the prettiest weddings of the season drew a large congregation to St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, on Saturday evening when Rev. Canon A. E. del Nuns united in marriage Doris Adele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Brown, 1318 Beach Drive, and Mr. Clarence Warren Wray, second son of Mrs. W. J. Wray, of Richmond, Virginia, and of the late Mr. Wray.

The Easter decorations of the altar and chancel were supplemented by sprays of freshest daffodils and narcissi to mark the great feast.

RADIANT BRIDE

Entering the church with her father to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus," Doris Adele, dressed in a beautiful gown of white chiffon velvet made in Juliet style, on close-fitting lines, with square neck and puff sleeves to the elbow, finished with long, tight cuffs, flared skirt and long, pointed train, carried a crown of white roses and a long bouquet of white roses, swanonia and lily of the valley tied with long shimmering streamers.

FOUR BRIDESMAIDS

Four bridesmaids attended the bride, two in crepe blue and two in turquoise blue, the close-fitting gowns being fashioned alike, of flat crepe with cowl neck-lines and flared skirts, with flared sleeves. They wore short, pointed, white gloves. Miss Agnes Hood and Miss Kathleen Brown were in pink, and Miss Marjorie Brown and Miss Kathleen Thorne in turquoise blue. All wore shirred hats of crepe, and shoes and stockings to match their frocks, and carried arm bouquets of blue Spanish iris and pink snapdragons.

The groomsmen were Mr. Conway Parrott, and the ushers, Messrs. William Boonham, Douglas Macdonald, and J. W. Stephens. During the singing of the register, Mr. Dudley Wickert sang "O Father, All Creating."

RECEPTION HELD

Following the service, a largely attended reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, daffodils, narcissi and plum blossoms being arranged in fragrant profusion throughout the reception. Mr. and Mrs. Brown welcomed the guests, the latter in a smart frock of pale grey silk crepe, with a lace yoke and a matching hat of crocheted straw, and they were assisted by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Henry J. Walters, of Oakland, California, who wore a very smart gown of pink and black, and a black hat. Their carriages were of pink carnations and pink roses.

The bride and groom stood to receive the congratulations of their many friends before the fireplace in the drawing room, where tall silver baskets, filled with Japanese plum blossoms and white snapdragons, had been arranged beneath the mantelpiece. The table was set with vases of freshest daffodils. In one corner of the room was placed the handsomely decorated three-tier wedding cake on a small, ice-covered table. Supper was served in the dining-room, where tall, white candles, in silver holders illuminated the table, which was centered with a flat silver bowl filled with white carnations and pink roses.

MOTORING IN STATES

After a motoring trip to Portland and San Francisco and other places of interest in the south, Mr. and Mrs. Wray will make their home at 1130 Monterey Avenue, Oak Bay. The bride chose for traveling a smart pearl grey tailored suit with leg-of-mutton sleeves, and orchid satin blouse, a grey crocheted straw hat and matching coat, pumps and purse.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. E. J. Walters, of Oakland, Miss Anna Theuerkeuf, San Francisco; Dr. and Mrs. A. F. W. Kres, Medford, Oregon; and Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Kres, Hood River, Oregon.

Juvenile Branch Musical Art In Fine Programme

The Juvenile branch of the Musical Art Society held their monthly recital in the New-Thought Hall on Saturday evening, the special guests being Mrs. Helen Schwab, piano, and Miss Dorothy McKinnon, soprano, representing the parent society, and Miss Dorothy McKinnon, soprano, representing the Junior Musical Art Society.

Other enjoyable numbers were contributed by gifted young members of the branch as follows:

Violin (a), "Meditation" (Alex. Bowman), Mary Louise Bryant.

Piano, "Will o' the Wisp" (Jungman), Jean Murdoch.

Violin (a), "Meditation" (Gounod), (b) "Song of the Dove" (Yradier), Albert Vane.

Dance, Highland Fling, Mary Richardson.

Piano, "Waltz in A Flat" (Tollner), Richard Bradbury.

Recitation, Robert Vey.

Sword dance, Adele Murdoch.

Piano, "Dancing Gnomes" (Hoatcher), Anne Hughes.

Piano, "Allegro in F" (Mogart), Mary Peterson.

A short business meeting preceded the programme, and tea was served at the close.

FIRST BROADCAST FROM JERUSALEM

The first programme direct from Jerusalem will be heard through stations of the National Broadcasting Company to-morrow morning when Field Marshal Lord Allenby's address at the dedication of the new home of the Jerusalem Y.M.C.A. is picked up and rebroadcast for stations on the North American continent.

The occasion also will mark the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association of the United States and Canada, and addresses of Y.M.C.A. leaders will be included in the programme, which will be broadcast over an NBC international network at 9.30 o'clock Victoria time. KPO will re-broadcast the programme.

"How these suds save work!"

... she tells mother

"REALLY—I can't understand why anyone still bothers with old-fashioned soaps! See what thick, creamy suds Rinso gives. Grease soaks loose from the dishes without any help from me. All I need to do is to rinse them in hot water—and let them drain dry. The dirtiest dishes—the greasiest pots and pans—soak spotless this easy way."

Cup for cup, Rinso gives twice as much suds as lightweight, puffed-up soaps—even in hardest water. Millions of women use it on washday for whiter clothes without scrubbing or boiling. Wonderful suds for glassware, porcelain, tile, woodwork—and all cleaning. No grit. Get the BIG thrifty package.

NURSES OF B.C. OPEN SESSIONS

Provincial Association in Annual Meeting Here To-day; Noted Visitors

Public Health, Nursing Education and Private Nursing Discussed To-day

Problems of the nursing profession were discussed at the business session of the twenty-first annual meeting of the Graduate Nurses' Association of British Columbia which opened in the Empress Hotel this morning, with nurses from all parts of the province in attendance. Miss Mary P. Campbell, R.N., of Vancouver, the president, was in the chair.

NURSING INTERNSHIPS

To meet the criticisms that have sometimes been made to the effect that graduates on completion of their training are often unable to "stand on their feet" owing to over-supervision, the Nursing Education section passed a recommendation urging hospitals to develop a nursing internship, such as was recommended in the Weir nursing survey, within the three years' training course.

It was also suggested that, as far as possible the existing public health nursing organizations be utilized to develop an undergraduate course, in an effort to give students the necessary background in public health nursing experience before going out into the field. Emphasis was also laid upon the need for all students to have, as far as possible, an opportunity for carrying on special nursing care within the hospital for a limited time.

A discussion was also centered around the proposal that a Health and Welfare Education Group be organized in Victoria for the dissemination of information among health officers, social workers and public health nurses, along similar lines to the group established in Vancouver.

EXECUTIVES ELECTED
The executive of the Public Health section for next year was elected as follows: Miss Mary Duffield, Vancouver, chairman; Miss S. Herbert, Victoria, vice-chairman; Miss Mary Henderson, Vancouver, secretary; Miss F. Young, Duncan, convener of the publications and exhibits committee; Miss Meta Hodge, Victoria, convener of the library committee.

The Nursing Education section chose the following executive: Chairman, Miss Jean Davidson, Vancouver; Miss Eleanor Kerr, New Westminster, vice-chairman; Miss Mallory, Vancouver, secretary.

HOURLY NURSING

In the Private Duty section the question of hourly nursing was discussed at length, both from the point of view of the unemployed nurse and from the point of view of the patient who, handicapped by the financial stringency of the times, is unable to afford the usual fees of the graduate nurse, so goes without nursing care, but no decision was reached on the matter.

NOTED VISITORS

Miss Elvora Thomson, R.N., president of the American Association of Graduate Nurses, is among the notable visitors in Victoria here in connection with the meeting. Other well-known figures in the profession here for the meetings include Miss Helen Randal of Vancouver, provincial registrar of nurses; Miss H. Gray, who has the chair of nursing education in the University of British Columbia; Miss Margaret Kerr, instructor in public health nursing at the University; Miss Fairley, lady superintendent of the Vancouver General Hospital, and Miss Breeze, supervisor of school nursing, Vancouver.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Miss Thomson, who is director of public health nursing at the University of Washington, will be the speaker at the birthday dinner to be held at the Empress Hotel this evening at 7.45 o'clock. Miss A. Robertson, president of the Victoria Association; Miss Franks, registrar, and Miss Cook, constitute the local reception committee.

To-morrow afternoon a general meeting will be held at the Jubilee Hospital, with Miss Grace Fairley, R.N., leading a round-table discussion. The business will be followed by the serving of tea by the Alumnae Association of the Jubilee Hospital.

OTTAWA VISITORS HERE FOR EASTER WEEK-END

THE MISSSES ANNA AND ESTHER WILSON

The two charming daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wilson of Ottawa, who have been on a series of visits across Canada, arrived in Victoria on Friday afternoon to spend the week-end with Sir Richard and Lady Lake, Newport Avenue, and left again for the mainland this afternoon.

CLAIMS LOVER DETAINED HER

Ex-Follies Girl Rescued From Man's Home Near Paris

Lagny, France, April 17.—Mrs. Ethel Robson Coval, former Ziegfeld "Follies" girl, was accompanied yesterday to this town, twenty miles east of Paris, from the wooded home of Rene Pettigrew by gendarmes who went there in response to a letter from her saying she was unable to leave the place.

The gendarmes took a statement from her in which she alleged she was forced to be a household drudge instead of leading an anticipated life of romance.

Pettigrew, whose home is near here, also made a statement in which he asserted Mrs. Coval was free to leave and attributed her allegations to hysteria.

Mrs. Coval told the gendarmes she came to France in January, expecting Pettigrew, a former commercial agent in New York City, to marry her. She said the romance was blasted.

Mrs. Coval is thirty-eight years old. Her maiden name was Robson and she appeared in the "Follies" before her marriage.

New York, April 17.—Charles E. Coval, editor of a magazine devoted to activity on Park Avenue, said to-day he would forward money to France for the return to New York of his divorced wife, who said she had been held prisoner on a French farm.

Coval said he received a letter from his former wife last Wednesday, in which she told of her detention, and that he immediately communicated with consular officials. He was gratified at their prompt action.

MacDonald Enjoys Atlantic Voyage

Associated Press
Steamship Berengaria, April 17.—Premier MacDonald of Great Britain, en route to his meeting with President Roosevelt at the end of this week, presided over an informal meeting of the British experts accompanying him in the Prince of Wales suite aboard the Berengaria to-day.

The agenda of the discussions with Mr. Roosevelt was examined in detail. Mr. MacDonald, who appears to be enjoying the voyage, spent an hour in the ship's gymnasium before breakfast. Unfavorable weather prevented deck games.

Langford

Under the auspices of the St. Matthews' Guild a blossom tea will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. F. Bullen, Marshwood, Station Road, to-morrow at 3 to 5 o'clock. There will be a home produce stall and fancy work table.

Mrs. Hecley Warner and small daughter from Sooke are spending a few days as the guests of Mrs. and Miss Marjorie Aikman, Goldstream Road.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Boyes with their children, Margaret and David, from Vancouver are spending the Easter vacation with Mrs. Boyes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Moir of Cherry Bank, Langford Lake.

A jolly party was held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Guy, Atkins Road, the occasion being the twenty-first birthday of their eldest daughter, Winnifred. Progressive court whist was enjoyed, the prize winners being Mr. and Mrs. A. Olson while consolation prizes were won by Mrs. V. McTavish and D. Mackenzie.

Highest scores at the last table were gained by Mr. and Mrs. Olson and J. Wilkinson. A guessing contest was won by Mrs. A. Olson. Daffodils adorned the supper table, the centerpiece being a beautifully iced cake, the gift of Mrs. L. G. Wilkinson. Music concluded the evening with songs rendered by Mrs. V. McTavish and violin duets by A. Olson and T. O. Guy. Mrs. A. Olson playing the accompaniment.

The guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Olson, Mr. and Mrs. V. McTavish, Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Guy, the Misses Winnifred and Margaret Guy, Messrs. D. Mackenzie, J. Wilkinson, K. B. Hincks, W. and E. Guy.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

DON'T BLAME CONCLUSIONS ON ISOLATED CASES

One of the faulty conclusions to which young mothers are given is to condemn modern methods of baby care and feeding which do not seem to work successfully for them. The only way we can come to an accurate conclusion about any method is to note their results, not in one, or two, or a few cases, but in thousands.

It was commonplace years ago for babies to be fed by "maternal instinct." But because half the babies died under such inexperienced care, scientists were shocked into the necessity of giving intelligent consideration to feeding the young infant so that he had better than a fifty per cent chance to live until one year of age.

DOESN'T WALK
One young mother bases her conclusions on the evidence of two infants. "Perhaps you can explain this," Mrs. Eldred, by baby, aged one year, weighs twenty-six pounds, has six teeth, and is full of pep, has been hanging onto things and walking about since seven months of age but does not walk alone.

The baby has always had the proper diet, and I adhered to the best prenatal care, eating the right foods and taking cod liver oil.

"My sister's baby, two weeks younger, weighs eighteen pounds, walks alone and has ten teeth. My sister ate very little and only recently has the baby had cereal and vegetables. Yet her baby seems farther advanced than mine. My baby is healthier to look at, but doesn't early teething and walking indicate that her baby is stronger?"

WHY EXPECT MORE?
One would hardly expect a twenty-six-pound child to walk as early as an eighteen-pound one. It is normal to have six teeth at one year and rather exceptional to have ten. The point is that your baby is normal in every way.

How could you expect more? He is rather fatter than usual, so you may be erring on the side of overfeeding rather than underfeeding. Your sister's baby is about three pounds under average weight.

The test of your good care and feeding may lie in the future. But even if your sister's baby suffers nothing noticeable from the rather lax care given it, this would still not justify you in copying it.

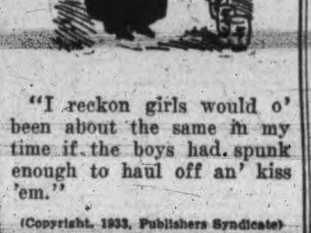

To-morrow: "Bad Conduct Cannot Be Blamed on Heredity."

Most every cloud has its silver lining. There's usually a good story or two in the dentist's magazines.

Bankers, nowadays, don't get around much, but they seem to no everybody.

VASCO FAMILY HAS VANISHED

Police Seek Parents of Child Ordered to Undergo Serious Operation

Associated Press

Hastings-on-Hudson, N.Y., April 17.—Neither police, relatives nor friends had been able last night to find a trace of John Vasco and his family, who vanished from their home Saturday while a court pondered the strange case of two-year-old Helen Vasco.

The child is doomed to an early death, physicians have said, unless a malignant tumor is removed from her eye. A Westchester County children's court ordered the operation performed, the case was appealed, the order was stayed, and the appellate division of the Supreme Court is preparing a decision.

Mrs. Vasco has opposed the operation plan, declaring Helen's fate should be left "in the hands of God."

Her husband, a $15-a-week immigrant laborer, has sided first with his wife and then with others seeking to have the operation performed.

In the early dawn of Saturday morning the whole family—the parents, Helen, an eleven-year-old sister, and Helen's twin, Anna, who has been ill with a severe cold—vanished. They took few if any of their belongings with them.

SHAW GALLANT TO HIS WIFE

Associated Press

Roslyn, N.Y., April 17.—George Bernard Shaw may sling his wicked barbs at the world in general, but he had a honeyed tongue when speaking to his wife.

Arthur Williams, long a close friend and associate of the late Thomas A. Wilson, returned to his Long Island home to-day after a four-month cruise on the steamship Empress of Britain with a story of overhearing the couple utter a pretty gallantry to Mrs. Shaw.

MOTHER OF ELEVEN WAS ALL RUNDOWN

"Helped Wonderfully" by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

MRS. A. HARRISON
15 Hanley St., Toronto, Ontario

"I am the mother of eleven children including two sets of twins seventeen months apart. My oldest child is twelve. I was so rundown and thin that I could not work. Had pains in my back and head most of the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had heavy odds to work against but it helped me wonderfully. I have been taking it for four months now. I am feeling strong again, have no pain in my head or back, have gained ten pounds and can do all the work for my family."—Mrs. A. HARRISON, 15 Hanley St., Toronto, Ontario.

"EASIER AT CHILDBIRTH"

"Before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was always tired, had dizzy spells, also headaches and bearing down pains at my period. My stepfather told me to try it when he saw what a condition I was in. I have three fat, jolly children. I took the Vegetable Compound before and after they were born, and found it easier at childbirth."—Mrs. FRANCES SHAW, Pictou, Nova Scotia.

GREET EASTER ON MOUNT TOP

Upwards of 2,500 Victorians

Band and Choir Lead Singing on Mt. Tolmie as Sun Comes Up Over Straits

Between 2,000 and 2,500 Victorians on Mount Tolmie swelled the total of over 1,000,000 persons who greeted Easter Sunday dawn from mountain tops at strategic points along the Pacific Coast from here to the Mexican boundary.

From the mountain top pulpit and under a flowered cross which had stood for two days visible to the whole countryside, Dr. Clem Davies conducted the service, as the sun with its rays brilliant at moments but uncertain because of the broken clouds on the horizon, came up in the east over the hills of Washington and the waters of the Gulf. The morning was fresh, and there had been showers over part of Saanich, but the mountain top was untouched by them and dry.

The crowd stood on the rugged slopes below the pulpit. They sang the Easter morning hymns, led by a choir recruited from city churches and accompanied by a band under Charles Baine. Motor cars to a number of around 400 filled the open spaces along the driveway up to the mountain top. A special early morning street car service from all parts of the city brought many out to the foot of the hill, up which they walked. A total of 2,500 of the seventeenth annual sunrise service souvenir programmes were disposed of.

STONE ROLLED AWAY
Dr. Davies spoke of the mighty forces at work in human society, rolling away the stones of dead things and bringing the establishment in the near future of a new order of things.

"Who will roll away the stone? This was the question asked by the women who came to visit the sepulchre of Jesus," Dr. Davies said. "The indications in Holy Scripture are that not one of the apostolic band, nor any of the women in the circle of the faithful, had any idea that Christ would be risen. They believed that on arrival at the tomb of Christ, his body would still be there; with the great stone at the door, needing to be removed for the purpose of entrance."

"This query is suggestive to us on this Easter morn. Who will roll away the stone? Have we the same unfaith as had those early disciples? When the women arrived at the tomb they discovered the stone rolled away with an angel sitting on it. The scripture story suggests some supernatural power had been at work. Not only was the obstruction removed, but the dead Christ they were seeking was gone. The tomb was empty."

HAD SAME OLD IDEAS
"They came to the tomb with the same old ideas they had formerly. When men died and were buried, they stayed buried. Death was lord over them. They did not look for a living Christ. To them He was still dead. And so they said, 'Who will roll away the stone, so we can get at our Lord?'

"That is the cry of many hearts these days of human maladjustment. Who will roll away the stone? Who will be the mighty leader? What man in our province, our state, our nation, our world, will be big enough and strong enough to once more bring us back economic prosperity, political decency, social solidarity, good times."

"Like the women who went to the tomb with old ideas, traditional outlooks; so are we. We worship the dead past. We cannot think in terms of new things, new ideas, new religion, new politics, new economics. We carry our spices with leaden hearts and minds full of despair to mourn at the tomb of dead things. Like the women on Easter morn we think in terms of dead stones and dead bodies. How much of this fills the minds of men and women to-day? A wistful, ignorant mourning at the tomb of dead things."

DID NOT RECOGNIZE NEW ERA

"Those women on Easter morn little realized that a new era had dawned. That first resurrection morn was to be the most famous and notable in all history. Old things were to pass away, and all things were to become new. Shall we blame them for their lack of faith and lack of wisdom. Not if we search our own hearts. Those women were not less despairing and devoid of hope in the year thirty-three than we are in the year 1933. They had much less reason for hope than we have now."

"They cried, 'Who will roll away the stone?' but let when they reached the sepulchre, the stone was rolled away; removed, apparently, not by human hands but by mighty spiritual forces.

"There was a power that was great enough to sentence Christ to death. Pilate said to Jesus, 'I have power.' Pilate used that power. And the Son of Man was hanged on Golgotha's tree. Pilate and the high priests and Herod, all saw to it that the dead Christ was laid safely away. His sepulchre sealed and a stone rolled against the door. They had the power to do all that. But neither Pilate, nor Herod, nor the high priests had the power to keep Christ dead and stop the rolling away of the stone."

POWER LIKE DYNAMITE

The Holy Scripture tells us that 'Christ is the power of God,' and the literal translation of that word power is 'dynamite.' Jesus is the dynamite of God. When divine forces start to move among the affairs of men and nations, those forces have all the characteristic of dynamite. They turn things upside down. When the disciples later, after Easter was in the grip of that 'power,' wherever they went they had a revival or a riot. That 'power' rolled away stones so that the abundant life could move forth and change the courses of men and nations. 'No Caesar, nor Herod, nor Pilate; nor Titus could stand against that 'power.' We are not worshipping this morning at the tomb of a dead Christ. He is risen. He is alive. It was not possible that he should be hidden of death."

MANY STONES ROLLED AWAY

"What a heartening message for us all in these troublous times. Who will roll away the stones for us? My friends let us not think of these stones. They are but the creations of traditionalism and reaction. The stones 'depression,' 'unemployment,' 'unbalanced budgets,' 'debts,' 'the threat of war' 'economic disaster,' loom large in the minds of men, and women who despairingly look back to dead things, dead systems, dead politics."

"They turn with leaden hearts toward the same old, unstable, human leaders. But, never fear, this generation is not going it alone. The same supernatural power, or natural superpower, is working to-day as on that first Easter morn. God's kingdom will yet be established on earth. When men lose hope in human leadership; when the gods of men are not able to keep the fire to consume the sacrifice, the Lord of Hosts brings to bear His mighty arm."

MIGHTY FORCES AWAITING RELEASE

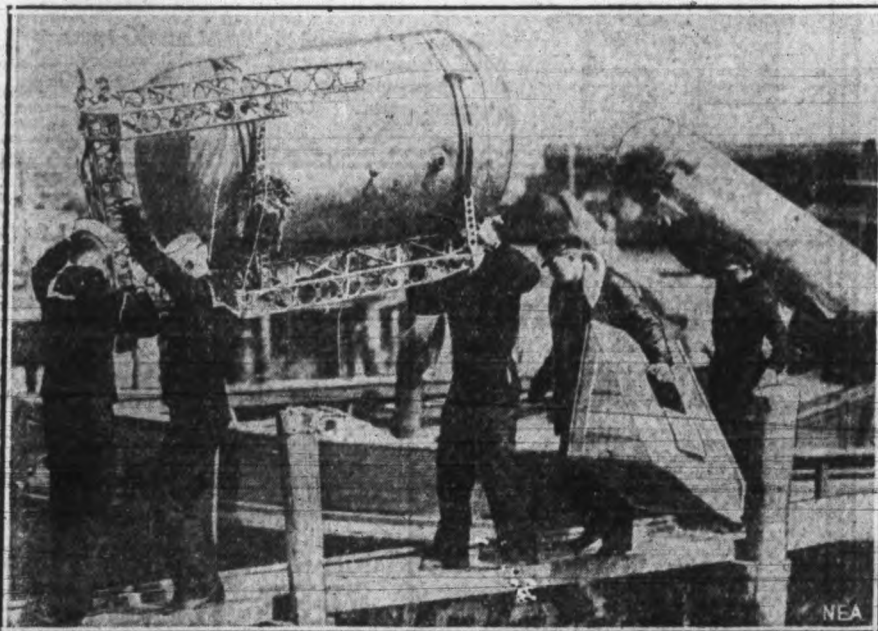

"He commands his stone-removers to get busy . . . and lo, mighty forces of which we had not dreamed, begin to work in the lives of men and nations and a new renaissance dawns. As the hymn says:

So long thy power that blessed me,
Sure it still will lead me on,
Through grief and torment,
Till the night is gone.

"The power of the resurrection is still with us. We are not undone, bereft and forsaken. Let us take heart. The first Easter visitors stood on the threshold of a new era. So do we. The selfishness, acquisitiveness and materialism can no more stand in this day than could paganism and decay stand in the days following the first Easter."

TOMB OF DEAD CIVILIZATION
"In our modern journey to the tomb of a dead civilization, we shall discover the stones rolled away; never fear. God is mightily working in this hour and forces of which we know very little about will change the whole complex (Turn to Page 10, Col. 4)

Clifford Sutter Wins Net Tourney

Pinehurst, N.C., April 17.—Playing listless tennis, Clifford Sutter, New Orleans, the nation's third ranking star, won the fifteenth annual north and south tennis championship Saturday by defeating George M. Lott Jr., Chicago, rated eleventh, 6-3, 7-5, 6-2. Mrs. John Van Ryn, Philadelphia, retained her women's singles title by defeating Mrs. Philip B. Hawk, New York, 6-1, 6-1.

Mrs. Van Ryn teamed with her husband to defeat Miss Eliza Cove, Asheville, and Berkeley Bell, Austin, Texas, 6-2, 6-2, to win the mixed doubles crown. Lester Stofen, Los Angeles, and Bryan Grant, Atlanta, defeated Bell and Gregory Mangin, Newark, N.J., 7-9, 8-6, 6-1, for the men's doubles title.

DEATH BRANDS 'BARGAIN' TIRES

Beware of the "bargain" tire. It is the costliest you can buy. It has been branded by death—"unsafe"! The "bargain" tire may look good. But when quality is lowered to reduce price—look out! Such tires are not built to stand modern driving strain. A blow-out or skid at high speed may bring injury, death—to yourself and others.

Goodyear knows what it costs to build a safe tire. Goodyear has all the facilities for maintaining quality and keeping price at the lowest possible level. Goodyear is giving you better tires today for less money than ever before.

Stick to tires that are backed by this good name. Buy Goodyear Tires. Don't buy little known makes at "bargain" prices. Spend a few cents more—for real value and service—above all, for safety. Don't gamble with death!

The Goodyear dealer is a good dealer—and will safeguard you and your family at surprisingly low cost.

PELLAGRA STILL DOCTORS PUZZLE

Few Believe Its Origin Definitely Solved; Dietary Cause Favored

Some Authorities Persist in Attributing Its Prevalence to a Germ

Adequate appreciation of the extent of the prevalence and the real significance of pellagra was not awakened until the present century, according to The Journal of the American Medical Association. The epidemic incidence of the disease in certain parts of the country was pointed out by Searcy in 1907.

"Pellagra had probably occurred sporadically many years before this but had escaped proper recognition," says the writer. "There are indications that during the Civil War outbreaks of the malady appeared in army camps and prisons. At any rate, within the past generation pellagra has obtruded itself into prominence in this country in the consideration of the public health problems of the southern states. There are few students of the subject who will venture the conclusion of the etiology of pellagra is solved. The older zealous theory attributing the malady to an intoxication from spoiled maize has proved to be quite untenable. To-day the preponderance of opinion favors the condescendence of pellagra to be classed among the so-called dietary deficiency diseases. There is no complete accord regarding the food factor responsible for protection against the appearance of pellagra, although many clinicians accept the views of the late Dr. Joseph Goldberger and his associates of the United States Public Health Service implicating a vitamin.

MAY BE SEVERAL DEFICIENCIES

"Perhaps the difficulty in reaching complete accord is due to the possibility that pellagra is in many instances a syndrome presenting the composite result of several different deficiencies. A few champions on an infectious origin of pellagra are still occasionally heard. McEwen mentions the modified belief that the specific infection, if there is an inciting microbe agent, attacks only persons who because of general malnutrition or of some more specific form of nutritional failure, are especially predisposed. In any event, there is assurance that an abundant, mixed diet is in most instances a prophylactic and a cure.

"Sandels and Grady have pointed out, after some experience in pellagrous districts, that the importance of diet in the prevention and treatment of pellagra is generally accepted. It is not yet clear, however, whether a specific dietary deficiency is involved or whether the deficiency is of a more general nature, important primarily in lowering the body's resistance to disease. Medical opinion in the south is still divided, though the weight of evidence at present available supports the conception of a specific deficiency.

"Dietary surveys have been conducted in several regions or institutions where the incidence of pellagra has been high. On this basis Goldberger, Wheeler and Sydenstricker suggested a few years ago that the seasonal appearance of pellagra may be correlated with variations in the food supply, if it is assumed that the winter season, with its restricted diet, serves as a long period of depletion.

"A recent dietary study in Leon County, Fla., by Sandels and Grady, of the Florida State College for Women in Tallahassee, is enlightening. Careful comparisons were made of the diet of pellagrous and non-pellagrous families at four seasons of the year; namely, midwinter, spring, late summer and fall.

WHAT FAMILY RECORDS SHOW

"Records of recurrences of pellagra

Germany May Not Stage Olympiad

Baltimore, April 17.—In a letter to K. A. Miller, managing editor of The Baltimore Jewish Times, Avery Brundage, president of the American Olympic Committee, to-day expressed the "personal, but unofficial opinion" that the Olympic Games "will not be held in any country where they will be interference with the fundamental Olympic policy of equality of all races."

Schoolboy Claims Swimming Records

Miami, Fla., April 17.—Ralph Flanagan, freckle faced sixteen-year-old school boy, yesterday claimed two new world's swimming records. With five persons clocking his free style strokes, he flashed past the 400-yard mark in 4 minutes 22 seconds and then went over the 500-yard line in five minutes 21 seconds.

The record for 400-yard freestyle is 4:26 held by Arne Borg, Chicago. The 500-yard free-style record, also held by Borg is 5:31.2.

In the families studied show that eruptions appeared most frequently in March and April, before the increased food supply of the spring was available. Comparisons of the records of the pellagrous and the control groups shows significant differences in the use of milk and succulent vegetables, particularly in the fall and winter diets, with some indications of a difference in the use of eggs, cheese and fruit. The use of lean meat and fish is similar in the two groups.

"These investigators interpret their results as a confirmation of the earlier observations of an inverse relationship between the use of milk and the incidence of pellagra, and an extension of these observations in showing the existence of seasonal variation in the milk supply of families studied, which is sufficiently greater in the pellagrous diets to constitute a significant difference between the dietary practices of the two groups.

"In these Florida records the use of milk for each adult male unit daily in the pellagrous and non-pellagrous families amounted to 6.5 and 15.8 ounces, respectively, in the winter, and 3.3 and 14.6 ounces in the fall. Only in the late summer did they approximate equality (15 and 17 ounces). These facts support the dictum of Wheeler that in cases of borderline nutrition, in which a slight unfavorable change in diet may put the family into the malnourished class, the milk supply may be the controlling factor in the appearance or non-appearance of the disease.

"In this connection physicians may be interested in the growing number of sporadic cases of pellagra, or pellagra-like symptoms, arising regardless of geographic locality as the result of voluntary or enforced severe dietary restriction. Many of these are associated with some dysfunction of the alimentary tract."

AUTO RACING CHAMP KILLED

Los Angeles, April 17.—Robert Carey, Anderson, Ind., American automobile racing champion in 1932, was killed yesterday on the Ascot Speedway while practicing for the 250-mile featured event of yesterday's program.

Carey's machine, going at terrific speed, ran into a guard rail and was hurled thirty feet into the air. Examination of the wrecked car revealed, track officials said, Carey's foot throttle had jammed.

of our life on earth. New inventions, new sciences, new liberties, no wideals, are now waiting the blessing of divine guidance. These will ultimately be placed in the hands of men of good-will and clean hearts, to use them, not for their own personal gain and emolument, but to bless the whole family of God this wide world over.

NEW ORDER COMING

"Man's index these days is pointing downward, in economics, social life and international relations. But God's index is upward, if we have the vision and faith and intelligence to see it. We should rejoice that we have lived to see the death of the old and the birth of the new. We are privileged to stand at a point between a system which has served its purpose and has become unfit for further use and a new order of things which will be established in the near future. That new order but awaits the men and women fit to handle it. God doesn't give first century men twentieth century opportunities. God does not confine twentieth century men to first century, nor even nineteenth century methods. God's clock of destiny is striking. He is removing away the stones of dead things and is saying, 'Behold, I make all things new.' God waits to establish His kingdom on earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness."

Nash to Accompany Sandy Somerville

In computing the number of words in an advertisement, estimate groups of three or less figures as one word. Dollar marks and all abbreviations count as one word.

In estimating the number of lines in an advertisement, estimate first five words for the first two lines and seven words for each line thereafter. This is not an exact count to the number of lines which will appear on the length of the individual words.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one issue. Any claim for rebate on account of error or omission must be made within three days from the date of the same otherwise the claim will not be allowed.

Advertisers who desire it may have their advertisement placed in the Times Office and forwarded to their private address. A charge of 10¢ is made for this service.

Subscribers wishing their addresses changed should notify this office as well as the carrier. If your Times is missing, please notify this office at 10¢ per copy. If you have not received your Times for 10 days, please notify this office at 10¢ per copy.

DEBTS

By HELEN WELSHIMER

Is there no way to pay for prayers,
Firestone on polished floors?
How much is honeyuckle worth,
Nodding at open doors?

How shall I pay for April rains?
What does a new moon cost?
Who can compute my debts against Starlight as sharp as frost?

Know the price of a velvet gown,
Rooms that are candle-gay,
Street corner roses and lillipops,
Orchids and love in May.

But odor of cinnamon, heliotrope,
Sunlight on new-turned earth,
The way I feel when you smile at me—
Tell me what these are worth!

Heart Trouble Leading Ailment Among Elderly

Disorders of Circulatory System Blamed for Half of Deaths; Long Life Inherited Characteristic; Living Tissues Wear Out.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN

Long life without a reasonable amount of good health is not necessarily a blessing. It was found many years ago that in a group of people whose fathers and mothers had both lived to eighty years there was an average duration of life of 52.7 years, whereas in another group whose fathers and mothers had died before sixty there was an average duration of life of only 32.8 years.

Long life is an inherited characteristic. Oliver Wendell Holmes said that the way to live long was to pick grandparents who lived long.

In a recent survey of old age, Dr.
Lewellys P. Barker points out that there are differences in the ways in which disease attacks the aged and the young. Nearly half of all old people die as a result of some disorder of the circulatory system, particularly the heart, so that the physician who attends old people is constantly on the watch for such symptoms as shortness of breath, swelling of the limbs or other signs of the breaking down of the circulatory power.

In the older person with a weakened circulation one must be exceedingly careful in the giving of vigorous massage or heart gymnastics. On the other hand, mild rubs and massage may aid the circulation of the blood and in addition produce a feeling of rest and relief.

Dr. William Osler used to call pneumonia the old man's friend, principally because it brought death fairly suddenly to people who had lived long and useful lives and who were confronted with an old age full of pain and distress. Very few people indeed die of a simple gradual wearing out of living tissues. This physiological old age, if it occurs, takes place around ninety years.

Most people die instead from some sudden breaking down of an organ or tissue. Doctor Barker points out that no human organism can live longer than the potential period set by the energy charge of the fertilized egg cell from which it starts. This energy charge, or inherited vitality, is gradually worn out during life.

However, it is possible to save energy by leading a good hygienic existence and by avoiding accidental death from infectious disease or other types of accidents like those which occur in traffic.

HARDING, DIX AT CAPITOL

Popular Stars Have Leading Roles in "The Conquerors"
Opening Here To-day

Motion picture ingeniously answered the poet's prayerful plea: "Backward, turn backward, O time in thy flight," during the filming of RKO-Radio Pictures' "The Conquerors," the dramatic pageant of a nation's accomplishment now playing at the Capitol Theatre, with Richard Dix and Ann Harding co-starred.

Time was made to go in reverse by the manner in which Richard Dix handled his character, which critics everywhere have pronounced the finest accomplishment of his career.

"The Conquerors," a bold, dramatic sweep, covers four epic periods in the history of the United States presented Dix as a vigorous youth with United States ideals and carrying him through a lifetime of defeat and victories. This period spans the sixty years between 1873 and the present day.

Exigencies of production made it necessary to film first the concluding sequences of the picture. Dix, therefore, began his portrayal as a graying man and, day by day, as the camera turned, a remarkable rejuvenation took place.

Also being shown on the same programme is "Goldie Gets Along."

Two Pictures At Playhouse

Edgar Selwyn, who directed "The Sin of Madelon Claudet," which is at the Playhouse Theatre, was born in Cincinnati, Ohio. At sixteen, an orphan and penniless, he came to New York, where he secured a job as an usher at the Herald Square Theatre.
His is a typical Horatio Alger career, for from this lowly position he rose to become not only the star of his own plays, "Pierre of the Plains" and "The Arab," but subsequently became president of Selwyn and Company, stage producers.

Also being shown on the same programme is "Mr. Lemon of Orange."

LUXTON

Two well-contested basketball games were played in Luxton Hall Saturday evening, when the West Road squad lost to the Luxton Seniors, the score being 24 to 34. The girls' game resulted in a win for the J.B.A.A. Girls over the Luxton Girls' team, finishing 24 to 14. W. Yeamens refereed both games. Names of players and scores follow:

West Road—A. Bickford (4), C. Stiggett (8), S. Bickford (7), A. Reid (1),
S. Creed (2).

HAPPY VALLEY

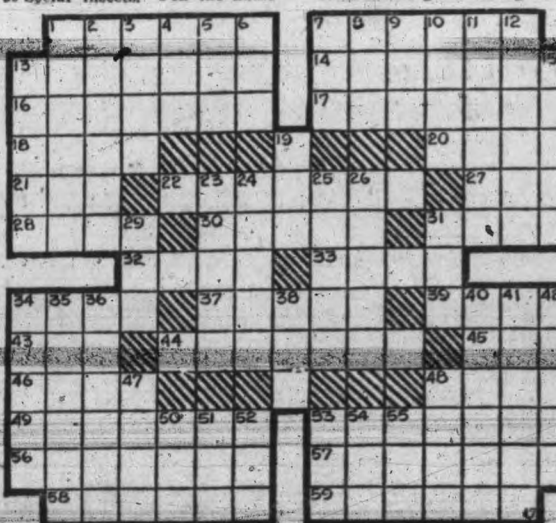

Miss V. M. Dyer and Miss Ethel
O'Connor spent the Easter week-end with the former's sister, Miss A. Rankin.
Mrs. Nelson Smith with her children,
Marjorie and Harold, of Hillspring, Alberta, are spending a two weeks' vacation with Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baxter, "Deerfoot Lodge."
The afternoon outing for members of Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute, which had been arranged for Thursday afternoon, April 20, to C. E.
Whitney-Griffin's ranch at Metchoh, has been postponed until a later date.

NOTED 'CELLIST' HERE TUESDAY

Michel Penha in Concert;
Neah-kah-nie Quartette
Plays Thursday

The appearance of the Neah-kah-nie String Quartette here on Tuesday will climax an unusually interesting musical season. The Beaux Arts will present this group at the Empress Hotel ballroom as the second of two concerts, the first of which will be given tomorrow by the brilliant Dutch 'cellist, Michel Penha, who is a member of the quartette. Both will commence at 8:30 o'clock.

The Neah-kah-nie gave two concerts here last October at the homes of Bishop and Mrs. Schofield and Mrs. W.
Nicoll. Their delightful intimate style of playing provoked enthusiastic inquiries regarding a possible return visit. Due to engagements in other places along the Pacific Coast, their concert will be the last one here for some time.

To-morrow evening Penha will play a programme of great 'cello works, including the Saint-Saens "Sonata for Cello and Piano." Penha ranks among the most celebrated instrumentalist of to-day and many critics compare him to the great Pablo Casals. Ralph Linsley will play the piano part.

Tickets for both concerts may be obtained by phoning E 8963 or G 7534 at Fletcher Bros. Music Store.

Frank Borzage's production of Ernest Hemingway's "A Farewell to Arms" featuring Helen Hayes, Gary Cooper and Adolphe Menjou, opened to-day at the Columbia Theatre.

The film is a faithful reproduction of the Hemingway novel, telling the story of Frederic Henry, American lieutenant in the Italian ambulance corps, and Catherine Barkley, a British nurse, who meet and love against the background of war. Their meeting through Rinaldi, the army surgeon who calls himself the "war brother" of Ernest Hemingway, and their quick realization of their love for each other are told.

Also being shown on the same programme is Joan Blondin in "Central Park."

DOMINION THEATRE

"King of the Jungle" one of the current list of adventure pictures, is now at the Dominion Theatre. Buster Crabbe, out of a host of applicants, was chosen as the most perfect physical individual to play the part of the Lion Man, and provides picture thrills and action in abundance. Starting in an African jungle the story later moves to the United States, with the Lion Man and his animals as the big attractions of a travelling circus. The picture is fast moving and colorful

EMPIRE THEATRE

"The Love Contract," which is showing to-day at the Empire Theatre, is a charming picture. Its fantasy is so delicious that criticism of the improbable in life is altogether discounted.
Who cares a jot whether a lady chaut-four (Winnie Sholer) can entertain her fashionable friends at a garden party on her afternoon off? Who cares if she carries in her "kit bag," or whatever the receptacle in which lady chaut-four carries their clothes, a suit of shorts for the "morning dozen" following the break-down of a car on an all night journey? What the picture-going public is concerned about is entertainment, and in "The Love Contract" they are regaled with humor, music and song and cheerfulness.

LUBRICATING PROCESS

BUILDS LUBRICATION INTO THE METAL
DOES WHAT OIL ALONE CANNOT DO

- BETTER PERFORMANCE.
More power, easier starting, smoothens, quiets, frees valves.
- PROTECTS THE MOTOR.
Practically stops cylinder wall, ring and bearing wear, much prolonging motor life.
- IS NOT AN EXTRA COST.
80¢ of "B" treats 1 gallon of oil. But it is advisable to run the Pyrol-treated oil approximately 50 per cent longer. Reduces oil consumption. 2¢ of "A" treats 1 gallon of gasoline. But the increased mileage easily covers that small cost.

Victoria's leading Garages and Service Stations now supply "PYROL SERVICE."

There are on display at many PYROL DEALERS very interesting facts, local endorsements and wonderful achievements of Pyrol. Your time will be well spent looking them over.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The Victoria Male Choir will hold its practice this evening in the basement of the Hibben-Bone Building, using the Langley Street entrance.

The usual monthly general meeting of the Naval Veterans' branch, No. 43, Canadian Legion, will be held in the club rooms on Friday evening next at 8 o'clock.

The Liberal Women's Forum will hold its monthly meeting Friday afternoon at the headquarters, Government and Broughton Streets, when Alderman W. H. Kinsman, president of the Victoria Liberal Association, will be the speaker.

A Welsh male chorus of eight voices, the only one of pure Welsh extraction on the continent, will be heard in a special broadcast to-night, under the direction of Dr. Daniel Protheroe. KFO will carry the programme at 8.30 o'clock.

A fine entertainment was provided at Ganges, Salt Spring Island, on Saturday last by the Troubadours, who received an enthusiastic reception on their first visit there. Owing to the insistent demands made by the audience, the company will return there on completion of their island tour and engagements in Victoria.

Wards One, Two, Four and Five, of the Victoria Liberal Association will hold a joint dance in the Foresters' Hall to-morrow evening. Bert Zala's four-piece orchestra has arranged an attractive programme of music, and cards are being arranged for the benefit of those who do not dance. A big crowd is expected.

The regular weekly meeting of the St. Matthew's Troop, Boy Scouts, was held in the Hollywood Presbyterian Hall, on Tuesday evening last at 7 o'clock. John Fielding took the promise and was enrolled by District Commissioner Wise. To-morrow evening's training hunt will be held on Gonzales Hill. The Scouts are to meet at headquarters at 6.30 instead of 7 o'clock.

Novelty numbers featured the Easter smoker concert of the Army and Navy Veterans at the club quarters on Saturday evening. Ronald Smith, pianist, with a small orchestra, presented popular selections, while Frank White, J. Moscop, H. Stafford and Walter Gaskill were heard in good numbers. Frank Spooner, S. Howard and A. Hunt assisted with the programme. Aubrey Jones occupied the chair.

Saturday's tag day netted the handsome sum of approximately $400 for the Tuberculosis Veterans' Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L. The Women's Auxiliary was in charge of the collection, under the direction of Mrs. W. H. Booth and Mrs. R. V. Campbell, who express their appreciation to the public and to all who assisted in tagging.

The meeting arranged for by the Victoria Unemployed Councils to hear the report of the delegates to the convention at Vancouver on April 5, originally advertised for Wednesday afternoon at the Pacific Stadium, has been postponed until Monday evening, April 24, at 8 o'clock, at Workers' Ex-servicemen's Hall, 504 Yates Street. The meetings in the same place of A. F. Smith will be held as announced. His subject will be "On the Terror" on Tuesday, April 18, and "Socialist Construction in the U.S.S.R." on Wednesday, April 19.

The council of the Christ Church senior Sunday School has decided to close the season of the public meetings by following up the subject of the last meeting which took the form of a debate with the Junior Chamber of Commerce on the resolution, "Sixteen is the best age limit for free education." For Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, was chairman on that occasion, and in summing up the discussion, pointed out that the future of the country was in the hands of the very young not only have to discuss but act upon the question. "Should there be a limit to schooling, paid for out of the public purse? If so, what should that limit be?" Mr. Hinchliffe has agreed to speak on this subject on Friday, April 28, at 8 o'clock, in the Memorial Hall, Dean Qualiton will occupy the chair.

IS LAID TO REST

Rev. O. L. Jull conducted the funeral services on Saturday afternoon over the remains of Miss Harriet M. Veale. Several beautiful floral tributes covered the casket. Interment was in Royal Oak Burial Park, the pallbearers being: Rev. P. W. McKinnon, Geo. Wells, S. P. Davis, P. O. Humphrey, J. A. Corlett, and A. M. Sinclair.

Birthday Greetings Are Extended To-day To—

MRS. MARION WATSON
PHIL J. W. RAYMOND
THOMAS TUPMAN
ERNEST J. BENT

Phil J. W. Raymond, one of the staff of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, celebrates his birthday to-day. Phil is a keen motorist and has toured almost every inch of Vancouver Island and the roads of the Pacific Northwest. He is a well-known figure to tourists because of his distribution of "Follow the Birds to Victoria" literature around the docks during the summer months. He has one of the most complete and interesting collections of Vancouver Island pictures of any amateur photographer. Phil is the son of Captain J. A. Raymond of the Victoria Fire Department and resides with his parents and his pet bulldog, "Buster," at 1727 Hautilan Street. He is a native son.

Every person who knows her will extend birthday greetings to-day to Mrs. Marion "Granny" Watson of Lady-smith. Mrs. Watson is ninety-one years of age to-day. Snow white hair bespeaks her age but sparkling eyes, rosy cheeks, keen sense and a ready flow of conversation in Scotch dialect show the ninety-one years have taken their toll lightly. She arrived at Lady-smith forty years ago and, with an unimpaired recollection, she recalls the prosperity of the day and the important events that have happened on Vancouver Island since that time. She was born in Carlisle, Lanarkshire, Scotland.

An old-timer in these parts who came to Victoria in 1890 celebrates a birthday to-day. He is Thomas "Tup" man, who was born in Ontario in 1862 and who came out to follow the building and contracting line forty-three years ago. He now lives on a fruit farm at Keating. Mr. Tupman has six children and four grandchildren.

Congratulations are being extended to-day to Ernest J. Bent on the anniversary of his birthday. Ernie is a native son and has his education at the North Ward School. Ernie is very popular among his workmates at the Best Motor Company where he is employed as "mechanic," having been with the firm for the last seventeen years. He likes music and gardening.

INQUIRY INTO LOGGER'S DEATH

Jordan River Man Fatally Hurt When Hit By Tree He Had Felled

Suffering a fractured skull when struck by a tree he had felled at Jordan River, Eric Anderson, logger, died in hospital here late Saturday night. Anderson was rushed to hospital and operated upon Saturday afternoon, but he never regained consciousness. Provincial police who investigated were told that a tree felled by Anderson struck him as it crashed to earth. The timber was diverted from its intended course downward by striking a smaller tree and the logger was unable to dodge. He was struck a glancing blow on the head. He was working on the Milligan Lumber Company's holdings at the time of the mishap.

Mrs. E. S. Rosemergy Buried Saturday

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Elizabeth Sarah Rosemergy, Rev. E. F. Church officiating, assisted by Rev. F. W. McKinnon. The hymns sung were "Nearer My God to Thee" and "The Church's One Foundation." The casket was borne by Messrs. J. W. Graham, John Baxter, W. E. Lowe, F. W. Grant, T. J. Walsh, and J. H. Corbett. Interment was in Royal Oak Burial Park.

FUNERAL TO-MORROW

Funeral services for Henry J. Abbott, 1625 Verrinder Avenue, will be held to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at Haynes' B.C. Funeral Chapel, Interment will be in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

RACING OPENS HERE MAY 24

B.C. Season Will Be Started at Willows on Empire Holiday

Vast Improvements Made to Fair Grounds and Racing Plant This Spring

The 1933 British Columbia horse racing season will open at the Willows track May 24, continuing for one week, until May 31.

Approximately 100 thoroughbreds are already stabled at the track. Some have been wintered there and others are arriving daily from British Columbia and southern points. It is expected there will be enough horses to provide good competition for the seven canters each day.

Considerable work has been done in the last few months to improve the fair grounds adjacent to the racing plant. And crews are now engaged in completing a central roadway leading to the main entrance.

The new road is to be known as "Rotary Row," being constructed through funds provided by the Victoria Rotary Club for unemployment relief. Beech trees have been planted on each side and the general effect is to beautify the northern end of the fair ground.

For the accommodation of the racing public the entrance to the grandstand will be widened from the northwest side to the south end of the grandstand. This work was started to-day.

In other directions, the British Columbia Agricultural Association has made vast improvements to the fair grounds. Planting of laurels and other plants, bushes and flowers has been done on a general scheme to beautify the exterior of the buildings.

In the infield of the race track, relief crews have been engaged for some weeks on draining and leveling the ground for use as a field for rugby and other sports.

Col. Lorne Drum To Be Buried Here

Military honors will be accorded the remains of Col. Lorne Drum, who passed away in Winnipeg on Saturday, when the funeral is held here on Wednesday afternoon. The cortege will proceed from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel to St. Barnabas Church for services at 11 o'clock, after which interment will be in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

The funeral arrangements are in the hands of Brigadier Sutherland Brown, officer commanding Military District No. 11, Col. Drum served as medical officer for District 11 thirteen years until his retirement in August last.

NAVAL VETERAN BURIED
The funeral service was held on Saturday for Charles James, Rev. Alan Gardiner officiating, in the presence of the family and many friends. The hymns sung were "Shall We Gather at the River" and "Abide with Me." The casket was borne by the following: Messrs. J. W. Graham, John Baxter, W. E. Lowe, F. W. Grant, T. J. Walsh, and J. H. Corbett. Interment was in Royal Oak Burial Park.

VETERAN'S FUNERAL
Funeral services will be held to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel for Thomas Raymond Keith Hobbs, who passed away at the Jubilee Hospital, Friday, aged 80 years. Mr. Hobbs was born in Scotland and served in the Canadian Expeditionary Force in the Great War, in which he served in the Imperial Army. He was a member of the Canadian Legion, T.B. Veterans' branch. He was unmarried. Interment will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

DIES IN JUBILEE

The death occurred this morning at the Jubilee Hospital of Sergeant-Major W. Everett, base of Calgary. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

TO AIR PLEA OF ESQUIMALT

Claim For Special Federal Grant to Be Submitted to Ottawa By Reeve Crouch

Convinced of the justice of Esquimalt's claim for special federal consideration to compensate the municipality for the loss of revenue it sustains through quartering military and naval forces, Reeve Wm. Crouch of Esquimalt, president of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, will present a brief in Ottawa asking the government to consider Esquimalt's case. Word to this effect was voiced by Reeve Albert Heald of Esquimalt to-day.

Reeve Heald stated the request would be the same as that submitted from time to time by his municipality. It points out that crown lands used by the military and naval forces are exempt from taxation. But the forces use the municipal improvements and their heavy carriage over the roads helps to break them down. There are several logical arguments advanced in favor of special grants from Ottawa.

Reeve Crouch will present these and

London Theatres Have Dark Week

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times

London—This has been a gloomy week in the theatre.

The old Borough Theatre, in Stratford, across the river, where Irving Tree, Ellen Terry and Dan Lono alio used to play, has just closed down.

And the London Coliseum has replaced variety by the "talkies."

It seems incredible that no more provincial or overseas visitors, no more London "diners-out" will be able to wander into its spacious promenade after dinner and watch the dancers, acrobats and comedians whose presence made the great theatre so pleasant.

They will hear no orchestra and no human humor now. Only the tiny echo of a Hollywood voice.

A pity! Many famous entertainers have made their farewell appearances at the London Coliseum. Ellen Terry appeared

Blue Ribbons Bring First Major Hoop Title To Victoria

Al Ritchie Is Quite Certain His Pats Received Raw Deal

Paul Runyan Never Played Tournament Golf As An Amateur

VICTORIA Blue Ribbons have brought to Victoria the most important championship ever held by a local team, in winning the Western Canada senior men's title. The Ribbons demonstrated their superiority over Raymond Union Jacks, Alberta winners, in a definite manner, taking the prairie club into camp in two straight games. After beating the Albertans by a seven-point margin in the opening game, the Ribbons stepped out to score a sixteen-point victory in the second engagement, a clean-cut demonstration of their being the better team.

The Ribbons deserve all the credit in the world on their victory. A club composed of practically all youngsters, they battled the Raymond veterans to a standstill in both games. The Union Jacks are no beginners when it comes to participating in championship basketball, but their experience failed to give them any edge over the local "kids." And don't forget that Muzz Patrick, one of the leading scorers for the Ribbons in the series, is only seventeen years of age. The Raymond players took their defeat like true sportsmen, and, after the game Friday evening, wished the Victoria boys all the luck possible in their coming Canadian finals. The Union Jacks were quite confident the Victoria boys would capture the national crown, held last year by the Winnipeg Totlers.

Al Ritchie, prominent Regina sports coach, whose Regina Pats were beaten by Newmarket in the final for the Canadian junior hockey championship, is certain his boys were handed a raw deal in the series at Toronto. The following article, carried in The Calgary Herald, gives Ritchie's view: "Al Ritchie of Regina is not through with amateur sport. He made that definite announcement on his return home after the junior final at Newmarket for the Canadian hockey championship. However, he is bitter over the loss of the title, claiming that his club was victimized by a referee. Ritchie told Regina sports writers, 'It was a very bad hockey player who did the damage. As far as I am concerned, it is a joke. The true facts will come out in the end. When asked if he thought his team had been 'gyped,' Ritchie answered, 'Certainly. And that is no lower squawk. I have taken beating before, many of them. But I don't want to hear I mean, Chief Justice J. T. Brown of Regina and Joe Caulder, now of Toronto, saw the game. They were disgusted by the referee's decision. Ritchie said that he had dozens of calls protesting what was termed the 'hobby.' Lester Patrick and his New York Rangers recently stated that they had never seen anything like it in their lives. Nor had Dick Irwin.'"

Paul Runyan, youngest member of this year's United States Ryder Cup golf team, never played tournament golf as an amateur. As early as 1925, when he was seventeen, he began teaching the methods of correcting hooks and slices. His first professional job was at Little Rock in 1927. He stayed on the job until 1930. To-day Runyan gives more lessons than any other traveling professional, averaging about 1,000 lessons a summer.

In the spring of 1932, Runyan won his first major title, the North and South Open at Pinehurst. He followed up by a win in the Jersey Open. In 1931 he won the Metropolitan P. G. A. and the Gasparillo Open in 1932.

His game rounded into top form early this spring with which he won the $10,000 Agua Caliente Open, the Miami Four Ball with Fort in Smith as a partner, and the first tournament with the six-inch cups, the Florida Year-round Open. He continued his excellent play during the spring tour, and ended his winter campaign by winning the final tournament of the season at Virginia Beach, bringing his winnings for the tour to more than $5,000.

The average player making the swing around the circuit during the winter has all he can do to break even, says Paul. "The expense of a single player comes close to $1,700. A married man spends $3,000 or better."

This year will find Paul making his second attempt at a United States title. He received his baptism of fire in the U.S. Open at Fresh Meadows last year, where he finished with a 134, and was not eligible for the open at the North Shore C. C., Glen View, Ill. June 8-10, without going through the preliminaries of qualifying.

Asked about the American team's chances to win the Ryder Cup matches, Paul said he was confident that the American team would return victorious, and that the one of the American contingent would cup the British Open. American golf is on a higher scale than British, says Paul. "American players regard golf as a job requiring training and good physical condition."

Ken Black Playing A.M. Watson To-day For Championship

BLACK ACCOUNTS FOR 1932 CHAMP

Jack Melville, Young Uplands Player, Loses to Watson in Semi-final Yesterday

After grueling play Saturday, the day that favorites fell, and more hard tussles yesterday, Alex Watson, Victoria veteran, and Ken Black, twenty-year-old linksman from Vancouver, were to-day contesting the final of the British Columbia amateur golf championship over thirty-six holes at the Victoria Golf Club. Left in their wake were the pick of local golfers and Stan Leonard, defending champion of Vancouver, who fell in the second round Saturday to Black.

Watson entered the final round by virtue of a 2 and 1 victory over Jack Melville, popular young golfer from the Uplands Club, in the semi-final yesterday afternoon, while the biggest salary of the week looked on a few holes behind, Black was disposing of R. W. C. Hopkins, of the Quilchena Club, Vancouver, 5 and 4.

Watson gained his way to the final after some great golf, and two particularly exciting battles. In defeating Clarence Brynjolfsson, 5 and 4, in the last round, he negotiated the Oak Bay course in a smart 69, including a 5 on the eighteenth, while on Saturday afternoon he accounted for Bob Morrison, local ace, at the twentieth.

BLACK RUN CLOSE
Black also had three tough matches on his way to the finals. He beat Art Bailey, 1 up, Saturday morning, and somewhat upset the odds in the afternoon by eliminating Leonard, the defending champion, 3 and 2. Yesterday morning he just pulled out against Harold Brynjolfsson, 1 up, but had an easy time in the afternoon with Hopkins, his fellow townsman.

In the all-Victoria semi-final, Watson had the faulty putt of his opponent to thank a good deal. The winner got off to a good start on the first when Melville, in trying to sink a putt for a 5, knocked Watson's ball into the hole for a birdie 4. Watson got into trouble in the bunker on the second and picked up, and also lost the third to his opponent's 5. A birdie 3 by Watson on the fourth squared the match, but Melville got a par 4 on the fifth to take the lead again. Watson squared the match with a par 4 when his opponent missed a putt.

Melville went into a one hole lead once more at the seventh, when Watson picked up after trying to explode from the beach. Watson led from the front edge of the first bunker on the short eighth, and Melville, whose drive had been four feet from the hole, missed a putt and had to be content with a half. Watson also won the ninth with a 3 on a missed short putt by Melville. The players thus reached the turn all square.

GOES TWO UP
Watson won the tenth with a 4 after a splendid recovery, halved the eleventh in four and went 2 up on the twelfth, when his opponent was bunkered to the right of the green and required six to get down. Watson also secured the thirteenth, when Melville found a bunker on his drive. The fourteenth was halved in three, and Melville three-putted the fifteenth for a half. Watson became a two-hole lead on the sixteenth when he approached the sixteenth green and finally conceded the hole. Melville had a seven-footer on the seventeenth, but Watson's putt was going, but missed it and Watson sunk his two-footer for a half in five and victory, 2 up and 1.

Watson was three up on the fourth in the other semi-final with Hopkins. He was out in 34 and was two up at the turn, but won the eleventh with a four, the twelfth with a five and the thirteenth with a three to become a three-hole lead. The fourteenth was halved in four and the match was over.

Harold Brynjolfsson, but beat Black in the morning. He lost, one down, after missing all-important eighteen-inch putts at the thirteenth and sixteenth. Brynjolfsson won 17-16. (Turn to Page 15, Col. 3)

West Indies Team Reaches England

London, April 17.—The West Indies cricket team which will play a series of unofficial test matches against England arrived here yesterday and was greeted at Paddington Station by members of the Marylebone Cricket Club.

George Headley, known as the "Black Bradman" was the centre of the crowd's attention. Headley, a "test-cricketing" man, gave his indication by his appearance that he is a terror to bowlers.

The West Indians will hold their first practice to-day at Lord's.

HUSKIES WIN THREE RACES

University of Washington Crews Make Clean Sweep Against Californians

Long Beach, Cal., April 17.—University of Washington's powerful crews swept the lagoon Saturday, as its Varsity eight clinched an afternoon of smooth rowing with a smashing victory over the University of California at Los Angeles. Washington won all the races entered—three.

The Huskies finished strong, leaving a length of open water to space the distance between the winner and the runner-up. In the 2,000-metre test California was only a bit over a second slower than the Golden Bear crew needed to capture the Olympic championship over the same course last summer, but the Huskies were much faster. Washington covered the approximate mile and a quarter in six minutes and thirty seconds. California's time was six minutes thirty-eight and seven-tenths seconds.

LARGE CROWD
A crowd estimated at 12,000 saw Washington start the afternoon with a victory in the four-oared event, and finish it the same way with the big boys pulling eight oars.

University of California at Los Angeles never had a crew before, and while sentimental favorites of the crowd, they could not do better than last in the four races in which they participated. Washington did not enter a junior varsity crew, and California won this event from its southern brethren.

In the freshman race the Washington boys saved their best for the last, and a furious sprint sent them out six feet in front of California at the finish. The time was six minutes fifty and one-fifth seconds.

Esquimalt footballers won the championship of the first division of the Victoria Coast League on Saturday afternoon when they defeated Saanich Thistles 4 to 1 in the sudden-death game for the title, at the Athletic Park, before a good-sized crowd. The Dockers won through the scoring ability of John Watt, inside right, who netted three of their four goals, the other being secured by Stan Richard, outside left. The teams were deadlocked 1 to 1 at the interval.

The match produced little good football, the play of both clubs being ragged for the greater part of the game. The forwards displayed lack of finish in front of the goal, while the kicking of the backs was erratic. Feeling ran high between the players, numerous fouls being called. The work of Referee Dave Swan failed to meet with the approval of the crowd, with the result that he came in for some healthy booing. The Esquimalt players displayed better team work, their forwards showing better knowledge of each other's play.

Both teams started slowly, and in the first fifteen minutes neither looked like scoring, the ball traveling from one end of the field to the other, with considerable kicking to the lines. Noel Morgan, Saanich outside left, had the best opportunity to score when he had the whole Esquimalt net to drive at, but hit the post, the ball rebounding back into play. The Thistles went into the lead after twenty-five minutes, when Barney Burns dashed in to bang home a rebound from Morgan's low drive that brought Goals De Costa to his knees. Esquimalt substituted Will De Costa for Evans at left half before play was resumed.

WATT INJURED
During a melee in the Saanich goalmouth John Watt was injured when he collided with Sammy Emler. The former moved over to outside right and his place was taken by Bob Stewart. After playing on the wing for five minutes Watt returned to his regular position. Ten minutes after the opening goal John Watt put the teams on even terms, beating Willemhurst with a left footer to the top corner of the net. A.C.F. Club, a close second. The Athletic Club, Toronto, was third.

JIM LONDOS STILL CHAMP

Will Be Recognized By National Wrestling Association As World Titleholder

Clerksdale, Miss., April 17.—So far as the National Wrestling Association of the United States is concerned, Jim Londos is still world champion of the heavies.

Col. H. J. Landry, Erie Point, Miss., president of the association, had notified association members yesterday.

He made public Saturday the result of an investigation into the April 7 match at Chicago in which Joe Savoldi, title claimant, was awarded a fall on Londos. Colonel Landry said "information revealed Londos was not pinned" in the Chicago match, although Referee Joe Managoff raised Savoldi's hand.

The president added further Savoldi had been indefinitely suspended by the association's affiliated Indiana State Athletic Commission for failure to meet Pat O'Shocker at Evansville, Ind., April 10.

CUPID TACKLES RUGBY PLAYERS
B. Barker and B. Wharton, "Rep" Team Forwards, to Wed Before Next Season

Wedding bells will ring for two of Victoria's stalwart "rep" rugby team players before next season starts. They are Bill Wharton and Bert Barker, husky forwards, whose driving plays have helped the Capital City sweep to victory in two successive McKeechle Cup series. Bill has played for two clubs in the city, the Canadian Scottish and the Fifth Regiment; while Bert has been one of the main reasons for the success of the Navy runners-up in the city league.

The score broke a deadlock that existed from midway of the wild second session—twenty minutes of the roughest hockey ever seen in Philadelphia. Two men were knocked out in the second session, four goals were scored and six penalties were meted out.

The championship series went the full five games, with the Boston Cubs coming out on top, soon behind after dropping the first two on Philadelphia ice. The Cubs displaced the Providence Reds as titleholders.

WINNIPEG GETS MEET
Winnipeg, April 17.—The Dominion amateur boxing and wrestling championships will be held in Winnipeg, May 16 and 18; it was announced yesterday evening by R. J. Orr, president of the Manitoba branch, Amateur Athletic Union of Canada.

Stan Leonard, Vancouver, British Columbia amateur golf champion last year, won the par competition held in connection with the current championship at the Victoria Golf Club yesterday afternoon. He finished even with par in the match play. Harold Brynjolfsson was second, 1 down. Three-quarters of handicap was allowed.

Canadian Finals In Basketball To Be Decided Here

No Chance of Series Being Switched to Vancouver, States J. A. Barnwell

Finals Will Be Delayed a Week

Quebec and Maritimes Champions Open Two-game Series This Evening

Victoria basketball fans will witness the Canadian championship final between the local Blue Ribbons and the eastern titleholders, according to an announcement made this morning by J. A. Barnwell, Victoria representative of the Blue Ribbon Company, backers of the Victoria team. Denying a statement made in Vancouver by Walter Hardwick, secretary of the British Columbia Basketball Association, to the effect that the series might be held in Vancouver, Mr. Barnwell stated that the finals would definitely be held in this city. The games will be staged at the Willows exhibition building.

The Dominion finals were originally scheduled to take place here the week of April 24 to 29, but owing to the eastern finals being held up it will be impossible for the eastern champions to arrive here much before the first week in May.

To-night at Montreal the first game of the Quebec-Maritimes series is being played with the second game to-morrow night. The winner will then meet Windsor-Walkerville Alumni in the eastern final, the winner to travel to Victoria for the Canadian final.

The Blue Ribbons won the western Canada championship last week by defeating Raymond Union Jacks, Alberta representatives, in two straight games.

To-night at Montreal, Mount Allison University, best of the Maritimes, meet Notre Dame de la Providence, best of the Quebec-Maritimes series. The second game is over Tuesday night at St. John's, N.B., where the Windsor-Walkerville Alumni is waiting for the Dominion semi-final.

The Dominion intercollegiate title will be decided in a series opening to-night at St. John's, N.B., where the Windsor-Walkerville Technical School and St. John High School. The Ontario champions captured the semi-final series from Strathcona Academy in a 2-1 victory.

Another Ontario squad, London Aces, take a six-point lead into the second game of their Dominion intermediate semi-final series with Fifty-seventh Battery, Quebec, at the ancient city to-night. The London Aces won 36 to 23 in their first game.

A meeting of the Olympic Senior Tennis League will be held to-morrow night at the Olympic Allys at 8:30 o'clock. It will be the wind-up meeting of the season to decide on disposal of prize money and to set a date for play-off between the winners of the first half, and the second half victors, yet to be decided. Regular league games will follow the session.

L.I.F.A. Meeting
A meeting of the Lower Island Football Association will be held at the Y.M.C.A. to-night, at 8 o'clock.

Rangers Get $1,000 Each

Toronto, April 17.—Toronto Maple Leafs will carry seventeen players in their National Hockey League campaign next season and use fourteen a game, Mike Rodden, Toronto Globe sports editor, revealed in his column to-day.

Instead of waiting until injuries have left them short-handed to call on Syracuse, their farm team, Leafs will carry some of the players on trial. Thus not detracting in one game will be replaced in the next and competition for places is expected to be greater than ever.

Conny Smythe, Leafs manager, revealed to-day members of the New York Rangers, Stanley Cup winners, will receive about $1,000 as a playoff split. Toronto players will get about $700 each.

GRADS SCORE SECOND WIN

Edmonton Girls Defeat Province 74 to 42 to Take Western Hoop Title

Edmonton, April 17.—Although they scored more points against the Grads than any other senior women's basketball team that has ever met the champions, Vancouver Province girls were defeated here on Saturday night in the final of a two-game series for the Western Canadian senior women's basketball championship, the final score being 74 to 42. On the round, the Grads won 168 to 100. That too, incidentally, is probably a world record for a score in any basketball series.

Grads, in the first game, shot early into the lead Saturday night and were never headed. In the final period, the Vancouver girls put up a terrific struggle but were never quite able to give the Grads a battle.

Betty Passerini and Kay Annan were the outstanding sharpshooters for the losers, Miss Passerini getting seven points and Miss Annan sixteen points. Eleanor Downie, the little guard of the Vancouver girls, was one of the best players in the game, being out of the game early in the last period when she had four personals called against her.

The line-ups and scores: Vancouver—Code, 6; Downie, Passerini, 17; Smith, 11; Abner, 10; Thomson, 2; Kennedy, Parkin, Total, 42.

Edmonton—MacBurney, 14; Belanger, 12; Fry, 13; Neal, 10; H. Stone, 22; Coulson, 2; E. Stone, 10; Innis, 2. Total, 74.

Benefit Football Ends in Deadlock

Vancouver, April 17.—Thirteen hundred and thirty-nine people paid $334 (net $316) to witness the benefit game in aid of Bill Rigg at Cop Jockey Park here Saturday. This sum will be handed over to the St. Saviours player who broke his leg early in the season. The game resulted in a 1 to 1 draw and instead of playing overtime, the captains of the teams representing the Old Country and Canada tossed for possession of the Sun Trophy, which went to the Old Country.

A sports programme was run off at half-time with players from all Coast League clubs competing. Frank English, Nanaimo city, won the seventy-five yard dash; Alex Bruce, the dribbling contest; Ernie Edmunds, Nanaimo, had the longest kick and also the place kicking event; while a drive which was only three years off the stake, and Bill McGregor, Nanaimo, captured the heading prizes by keeping the ball in the air eleven times.

JUNIOR SOFTBALL
A meeting of the Junior Softball League will be held at the Y.M.C.A. on Monday, April 24. Entries will close at this meeting and all teams are asked to have a delegate present.

Victoria, with nine points, and Tina Reboil and Tom Savetta, Italy, with six points. The favored team of Alfred LeTourneur, France, and Gerard DeBaets, Belgium, was in sixth place, one lap behind the leaders. Torchy Peden, Victoria, and Laurent Gadou, Montreal, also powerful contenders, were in seventh position.

Standings this morning follow:
Teams Miles Laps Pts.

Tight Battle For Second Place In English Football

Sheffield Wednesday, Aston Villa and Newcastle United Seek Coveted Berth

Several Elevens Fight Relegation

Single Point Separates Top Teams in Second Division; Glasgow Rangers Well Up

London, April 17.—Arsenal, seven points ahead as the season draws toward its close, to-day was virtually assured of ending on top of the first division of the English Football League. A stirring contest had developed between second place Sheffield Wednesday, Aston Villa, in third, and Newcastle United, in fourth, for second honors.

Gunsners barged ahead Saturday, defeating Portsmouth, 2 to 0, and scoring their second victory in two days. Wednesday, up against Aston Villa, went down by the same score and saw their chances of ending on top fade. Newcastle United took a tremendous wallop from Leeds United, 6 to 1.

Wednesday's defeat Friday by Arsenal robbed Saturday's game of much interest, but 17,000 spectators turned out to see them take their first home defeat of the season. Villa showed themselves superior almost from the opening whistle, although their defense was given a tough ride during the early stages of the contest. Morton, in the Villa goal, played a marvellous game. Wood put the visitors one up just before half-time. Villa came back after the interval with a fine display of combination play, curate passing to increase their lead via Brown.

Gunners scored both their goals in the first half of their game against Portsmouth. The first fifteen minutes of the match were a tactical battle, but Villa's attack lacked something of its usual punch. The ground was very hard as the teams ran out before 48,000 spectators. Leicester City struggled valiantly to get out of the cellar and away from danger of relegation to the second division, but lost for the second time in a row, this time to Manchester City, 4 to 1. Manchester showed consistent superiority. Herd and Townsend scored early, and Gann put the visitors through his own goal to give Leicester its only tally of the game. Marshall increased Manchester's lead early in the third and Herd repeated to get the final goal.

Stoke City and Tottenham Hotspur stayed in that order at the top of the second division, separated by only one point. Both sides played a very close game, Stoke taking Chesterfield 2 to 1 and Spurs beating Swansea Town 2 to 0.

Chesterfield, fighting hard to avoid relegation, bared in aggression during the first half, but Stoke's defense held them off and the frame ended scoreless. In the second half Chesterfield scored, but Stoke's defense held them off and the frame ended scoreless. In the second half Chesterfield scored, but Stoke's defense held them off and the frame ended scoreless.

Forward scored for Hull in the opening minutes of the game, and McNaughton followed to make the half-time count 2 to 0. Connaught scored in his own team, Carlisle, just as his side was beginning to show signs of stiffening. Watson scored Hull's fourth tally and McNeil replied with Carlisle's single. Sargeant scored twice in the closing minutes.

Brentford and Norwich City, battling for promotion in the southern section, played a 2-to-2 tie in a furious game that saw first place Brentford ahead by a goal at half-time. Stephens scored Brentford's first and Burditt equalized only to have Hopkins bore through to put Brentford ahead by one goal. Norwich came back after the interval with a bewildering display of combination play and a pace that momentarily overwhelmed their leaders. Their attack brought results when Murphy tied the game up.

Glasgow, Scotland, April 17.—With the end of the season only two weeks away, Rangers to-day held a four-point lead in the first division of the Scottish Football League, with a game in hand over the second-place Motherwell.

Only five games were played Saturday. Rangers added a point to their tally by playing a 1-to-1 tie with Aberdeen, and Cowdenbeath tied East Stirlingshire 1 to 1 to make sure of a place in the big circuit next season. Johnston put Aberdeen in the lead with a smart goal, but Dundee equalized. The game was rough and fast, although neither side showed much in the way of football. Hamilton Academicals tied 2 to 2 with Kewie Morton.

The whole day's games brought only two victories. St. Mirren beat Ayr United 3 to 1, and Dundee defeated Partick Thistle 1 to 0.

Hibernians 1-to-1 victory over Dunfermline kept them well in the lead of the second division.

JOKERS SCORE EASY VICTORY

Defeat Maccabees-Wards 5 to 1 in Talmie Cup Football Game; Wyatt Stars

Jokers chalked up a well-deserved 5-to-1 victory over Maccabees-Wards at the Lower Beacon Hill grounds on Saturday afternoon. A strong wind swept the field and gave the players much trouble in controlling the ball.

In the early stages of the game the Jokers had only nine men on the field, and were sorely pressed. The game was only a few minutes old when Campbell worked through the Jokers' back division to beat Stofor with a low shot to the corner. With half-time only a few seconds away, Hitter scored to put the Jokers on an even basis again.

Early in the final half Hitter scored his second goal and from this point until the final whistle the Jokers had the field to themselves. Campbell played a marvellous game, passing to increase their lead via Brown.

Meet Edmonton Grads for Canadian Championship

On April 27 Toronto Ladies' Athletic Club basketball team, champions of eastern Canada, meet the world-famous Edmonton Grads, western titheholders, in the first game for the Canadian title and the Underwood Trophy. Toronto Ladies defeated Montreal Y.W.H.A. Quebec winners, to enter the finals. Here are four of the Toronto stars: 1. Elsie Hendry, centre; 2. Charlotte Brunening, sharpshooting forward; 3. Marjorie Dawes, one of the fastest members of the squad, who, incidentally, is a sister of Eva Dawes, the best girl high jumper in Canada; 4. Connie Colton, former Canadian high jump champion, whose fine play has been a feature of the Toronto team's play this season. The finals will be played on the home floor of the Grads, who won the western championship by defeating the Vancouver Province Girls in two straight games.

first hole with a five to his opponent's six and from that point until the ninth all holes were halved in pars. Black squared the match at the ninth with a par three and both players were out in 34.

The tenth and eleventh were halved in pars fours and the twelfth in sixes. After Brynjolfson had taken three shots on the green, Brynjolfson missed the first of his very short ones on the thirteenth to halve in fours. The fourteenth was halved in three and Brynjolfson topped the fifteenth with a nice four to go one up again. Another missed short putt on the sixteenth cost Brynjolfson the hole to Black's four, and Black also got the seventeenth with a birdie four to go down one up. Both players were on the edge of the eighteenth in two, but Black laid his third hole and Brynjolfson missed his long one to halve the hole.

GREAT GOLF. In his match with Leonard Saturday afternoon Black played probably the finest golf of the week and if he had finished on the seventeenth and eighteenth and got four on them, he could have claimed a 67. At that, Black's victory by 3 and 2 was scored after he had been two down at the sixth to the defending champion. He won the seventh with a three, the eighth with a birdie two and the ninth with a three to round the turn one up.

In some spectacular shooting, the players halved the tenth in birdie three, the eleventh in fours and the twelfth in birdie four. Black won the thirteenth with a birdie two to tie up. His score for the first four holes of the second nine was thus three under par. The fourteenth was halved in four and Black went down one up. The fifteenth by sinking a fifteen-footer for a four. The sixteenth was halved in four and the match was over.

Todd, who lost in the home stretch to Watson yesterday morning, accounted for Jack Watson, tournament medalist, in the second round of the nineteenth, when the latter's second shot on the extra hole hit a branch, and finally cost him the match.

ROYAL OAK WIN CUP-TIE MATCH

Royal Oak won the Lower Island final of the Provincial Junior Football Cup series on Saturday afternoon at Athletic Park in a sparkling performance and were full value for their win.

With only two minutes of the first half remaining Royal Oak went into the lead, George Hodgson accepting a pass from Jack Payne to whip the ball past the visiting goalie.

The Victoria team continued to hold the upper hand in the second half and before the final whistle Alcock and Hallett added two more goals to their total. The Chemsinus lads worked hard during the match but were unable to get by the strong back division of their opponents.

favorite clubs, with the nod going to the spurs. With this club he is said to have no equal. Runyan isn't exceptionally long off the tee and often must depend on his spoon to reach a green where others would use an iron. When playing a spoon shot, Paul uses the over-lapping grip, with the "V" formed by the index finger and the thumb pointing over each shoulder. The ball is played a bit further back toward the right foot than for the drive, but the swing is much the same. When the ball has found a cuppy or close lie, the ball should be played still further back toward the right and the swing should be like an iron shot.

Race Horses Too Have Their Pets

By AL DEMAREE
Thoroughbreds are "extremely impressionable fellows and their eccentricities are well illustrated by their inherent passion for companionship, whether human, hooved, furry or feathered."

Many racers are happiest when they have a pony or shepherd dog for a stable mate, while others prefer a parrot, a duck or a hamster rooster. Once the thoroughbreds of a stable have adopted a bird, the feathered mascot is perfectly safe to strut from one end of the stable to the other with no danger of being stepped upon.

Racers also become very fond of their charges and are sleepless the night that their human side-kick remains out of the barn.

These very human qualities help to explain in part why those who know horses love them.

Pitchers Holding Margin On Batters In Major Leagues

Red Lucas and John Berly in Two-hit Performances to Win Games Yesterday

Yankees Capture Fourth Straight

Gehrig Clouts Third Home Run; Giants and Brooklyn in Extra Inning Tie

Major league baseball pitchers this spring seem well "ahead" of the batters. Since the campaigns started last Wednesday, twenty-four games have been played and eleven times one team or another has been limited to five hits or fewer.

Something of a climax was reached yesterday when two flingers hit the lowest mark made so far this season—two hits. Charles "Red" Lucas, veteran right hander of Cincinnati Reds, limited St. Louis Cardinals to a pair of singles and let only one runner reach third as the Reds won their first game of the season, 7 to 0. John Berly, Phillies, equalled the feat against Boston Braves and the Phils won, 2 to 0.

A third game marked by stellar pitching turned up in Brooklyn where the first duel between the Dodgers and New York Giants was halted by darkness after fourteen innings with the score tied at 1 to 1.

Black Wilson celebrated his debut for the season by making three hits and scored Brooklyn's run after clotting a triple.

Wes Ferrell, aided by Clint Brown, recorded the day's best pitching in the American League to give Cleveland Indians a 7 to 1 victory over St. Louis Browns.

Fourth Straight Win
New York Yankees, as usual, preferred home runs to strikeouts in chalking up their fourth straight American League triumph. Lou Gehrig, walloped his third home run of the season with Babe Ruth on base in the first inning and the world champions turned back the Philadelphia Athletics 5 to 4. Bob Johnson, one of the A's clotting rookies, hit a four-bagger and a double to drive in two runs.

Rain and wet grounds eliminated three games from yesterday's program. The Pittsburgh-Chicago National League game was postponed as were the Boston-Washington and Chicago-Detroit contests in the American League.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Brooklyn, N.Y., April 17.—The Dodgers and the Giants struggled through fourteen innings to a 1 to 1 tie yesterday in the first interborough battle of the National League season. Darkening kept them from going on to a decision.

Carl Hubbell and Joe Shauts, rival southpaws, pitched effective ball through the first eleven frames, each yielding eight hits and one run. Luque and Bell, who followed Hubbell, did about as well. Hubbell fanned seven batsmen.

About 32,000 fans braved threatening weather to see the first round of the traditionally bitter series.

New York 1 10 0
Brooklyn 1 10 3
Fourteen innings, game called on account of darkness.

Batteries—Hubbell, Luque, Bell and Mancuso; Shauts, Mungo and Lopez, Pielnick.

Boston, April 17.—The Boston baseball opening, postponed four times, yesterday gave the Curves-Darling John Berly an opportunity to hold the Boston Braves to two hits as the Phils hit them out 2 to 0. Damp, chill weather held the first-day crowd down to 7,500.

Walter "Huck" Betts held the Phils to five hits but they were bunched. Philadelphia 2 5 2
Boston 0 2 0
Batteries—Berly and Davis; Betts and Hogan.

SEATTLE SEES BOX LACROSSE

Seattle, April 17.—The Ballard Commercial won a free kick-swinging contest from the Holling Terminals yesterday evening, 6 to 5, to open the Seattle box lacrosse league's season. Ballard ran up a three-goal lead early in the game.

Red Lucas held the Cardinals to two hits, and only one man got as far as third. Two former Cards played a prominent part in the victory, Jim Bottomley scoring two runs and driving in another, while Hafey also scored one and drove in another.

Reds yesterday humbled their old jinx the St. Louis Cardinals, by winning their first game of the season, 7 to 0. In a splendid pitching performance, Red Lucas held the Cardinals to two hits, and only one man got as far as third. Two former Cards played a prominent part in the victory, Jim Bottomley scoring two runs and driving in another, while Hafey also scored one and drove in another.

St. Louis 0 2 3
Cincinnati 7 12 1
Batteries—Derringer, Stout and Wilson; Wilson, Doherty and Doherty.

Pittsburgh-Chicago, postponed, rain.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
New York, April 17.—"Larrupin Lou" Gehrig's third home run of the season was just enough to win for the Yankees yesterday as the world's champions turned back the Philadelphia Athletics 5 to 4 for their fourth straight triumph.

Gehrig made his clutch hit with Babe Ruth on base in the first inning. After that the Athletics had the better of the going except when Rube Waddell's wildness had them in trouble. They had an 8 to 7 edge in the hitting. Don Brennan, leading pitcher of the International League last season, made his first start for the Yanks and went along well until the eighth inning. When he started to "blow" Wiley Moore came in and stopped the Athletics in their tracks.

Philadelphia 4 8 0
New York 5 7 0
Batteries—Brennan, Moore and Madjeski; Brennan, Moore and Dickey.

St. Louis, April 17.—Cleveland won its third straight game of the season here yesterday 7 to 1 from the St. Louis Browns, who thereby got their third consecutive defeat. The victory may have been expensive for the Indians as Wes Ferrell pulled a tendon in his shoulder in striking out Burns in the seventh inning.

Cleveland 7 12 0
St. Louis 1 6 2
Batteries—W. Ferrell, C. Brown and Spencer; L. Brown, Knott and Ferrell.

Boston-Ashington, postponed, rain.
Chicago-Detroit, postponed, wet grounds.

COAST LEAGUE
At Sacramento—
Morning game—
Seattle 8 14 2
Sacramento 0 16 1
Batteries—Carter, Freitas, Walsh and Cox; Gillick, House, Flynn and Wirtz.

Afternoon game—
Seattle 6 11 1
Sacramento 9 9 2
Batteries—Bewell and Cox, Salvo; Noonan and Moor.

Listless Downward
Drift In Winnipeg
Wheat Price To-day

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, April 17.—Wheat futures prices drifted listlessly through a session of light and uninteresting trade on the grain exchange here to-day, and in the absence of any Canadian export business closed 1/4 to 1/8 lower. May at 52 1/4, July 53 1/4 and October 55 1/4.

Holidays in Liverpool and other European markets accounted for absence of export trade and traders had to content themselves with routine operations.

Last week world shipments of wheat and flour totalled only 9,148,000 bushels less than the previous week, and 6,750,000 bushels under the corresponding week a year ago. North America furnished only 3,314,000 bushels compared with 7,299,000 bushels last year.

Actual sales of cash wheat and coarse grains were light and made up generally of odd cars. Spreads on most grades remained unchanged.

GOLD ACTIVITY IN CRANBROOK

Canadian Press

Cranbrook, B.C., April 17.—Gold-mining activity in the Cranbrook area has reached proportions greater than in any other year, with $200,000 in gold sold in the last sixty days.

Scores of men are still pouring into the Boulder Creek, Still River and Fish Creek districts, searching for gold. About 1,000 ounces have been purchased by banks in the last two months.

Roseland, B.C., April 17.—Good news for Roseland, local miners and unemployed workers comes in a statement given The Roseland Miner by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Limited, operating the smelter at Tadoussac, near here. The company has numerous claims in and near Roseland. In consideration of numerous requests, it has been decided by the Consolidated to lease sections of the Roseland mines.

"YESSIR—A SHORTER WORKING DAY IS WHAT WE NEED"

CHEESEOLOGIST GROWS RICH

He Started Thinking Cheese Road to Health and Found It Road to Wealth

By JULIA BLANCHARD

New York, April 17.—Sam Morway is America's first "cheeseologist." (That's his own name for his specialty.) Morway carries 345 different kinds of cheese in his little shop with a big reputation in East Fifty-ninth Street, just off Fifth Avenue. His clientele includes sixteen different nationalities and many socially prominent cheese connoisseurs.

Strangely, this Hungarian got his cheese-start in Yonkers, N.Y., where his immigrant parents settled upon arrival in this country and where he went to work as a boy in a delicatessen. While still in his teens, indignation put him on a non-meat diet. He became convinced that cheese was the route to health. Later he found it led to wealth.

Thirty years have gone into his expert knowledge of cheeses. Now he knows his subject so well he can take one whiff and tell the ingredients and where it was made. He and his two grown sons in business with him, buy from all over the world and cure many cheeses on the premises.

Morway invites all newcomers to taste his delicacies. Perhaps your palate will warm to some Norwegian Cheetor (goat's milk cheese) which looks like a big loaf of brown home-made soap and tastes not like cheese but malted milk; or some Holland Leyden, a hard cheese with curaway seeds and a lot of alien spices in it; or some of his Stilton with port in it. Other unusual cheeses include Swiss Sapsago, Finnish Gruyere, Danish Munster, Hungarian Liptauer, German Edelsieck and Alsace Rahm Munster.

His proud boast is that no matter what your nationality, his delicatessen will have something from home. Illustrating, he will show you smoked reindeer meat for the Eskimos; Rigas spots for Latvians; Bluga caviar for Russians; specially roasted French coffee for the French; paper-thin flatbreads for Norwegians; Prague hams for Czechoslovakians; pickled lyf sprouts for the Chinese.

He is hale, hearty, in his middle fifties, with very little grey hair in his black beard and the snap of youth in his dark eyes. He recommends as the ideal nightcap a Limburger cheese and onion sandwich, on pumpernickel, with a big schooner of beer.

ONE DEGREE BELOW

A sandwich man in cap and gown (regulation college graduating mortarboard and gown) sauntering along Broadway in a 6 o'clock drizzle the other evening, was something new and different. He was a fine looking young fellow. His signs advertised a vegetarian cafeteria.

To the question, "Where did you get the cap and gown?" he answered with dignity, "It is my own, Madam."

THE SHRINKING SHAW

In spite of the fact that G. B. Shaw knows how to get more front page headlines for himself by his smart sayings than anybody on earth at present, he turns out to be a veritable shrinking violet.

He has refused hundreds of gilt invitations, won't breakfast, lunch, tea or dine with anybody, won't accept any "gifts" from firms wanting to cash in on publicity thereby, won't even pose for studio photographers who are eager to "catch" Shaw. He has refused a suite at one of the best hotels. He and Mrs. Shaw stayed on the ship, while in New York.

EYE TO EYE

Seeing "Through the Keyhole" on the billboards at Radio City recalled the one and only keyhole peeping indulged in by Leonora Ediston, short story writer.

Leonora was only eighteen then, just arrived in the big city. She took a small room at an old hotel. When the bellhop left her, she looked about the room and noticed a door connecting with another room.

Instinctively, she stepped over and stooped down to see what was on the other side. At first she thought the hole was stopped up. Then her heart stopped beating. She was looking straight into somebody else's eye!

She fled the room, had the desk sent up for her bags and went to the Y.W.C.A.

John Factor in Chicago Can't Raise $100,000 For His Captive Son

Associated Press

Chicago, April 17.—John (Jack) Barber, Chicago, fighting extradition to Great Britain on charges of swindling investors out of $8,000,000, told authorities it would be impossible for him to raise the $100,000 reputed to be demanded by abductors for the return of his seventeen-year-old son, Jerome.

The youth, a Northwestern University student, was abducted from in front of his mother's apartment, Factor's first wife, last Wednesday.

Both police and the underworld have been enlisted in a search for the boy. Of the latter element the names of Murphy, Humphries and Joe Fusco, reputed Capone gang leaders, figured when reporters said Factor had appealed to them for assistance.

TWO NOTES

Two notes were received from the boy's captors.

A telegraph company employee, Anthony Schneider, told a reporter he had been accosted by a man on the street and told to take a note to a "William Bleet" at the hotel where Factor was registered. Hotel employees said Factor was going under the name of Bleet.

Schneider refused to reveal more information except that "Murray Humphries told me to shut up."

Police said four men seized Jerome as he was entering the north side apartment building where he lived and forced him into an automobile.

Montreal, April 17.—Earnings of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for the period ended April 14, according to an official statement, were 1933: $1,700,000; 1932: $3,122,000; decrease, $1,422,000.

Not Afraid of Future

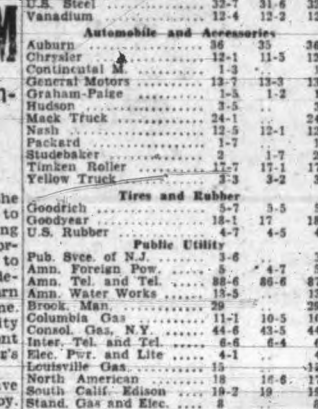

New York, April 17.—The bond market drifted uncertainly to-day with prices inclined to sag moderately.

United States securities yielded fractionally. Apparently there was no unusual pressure against the federal debt.

Among softer issues were some of Baltimore and Ohio, Canadian Pacific, Chile Copper, Columbia Gas, Goodyear, Great Northern, International Telephone, New York Central, North American, Nickel Plate, Pennsylvania Standard Oil of New York and Texas Corp.

Bonds of Loews, Western Union, United Drug, Warner Bros. and Youngtown Sheet and Tube displayed resistance.

While German Government obligations rallied fractionally to around two points, other foreign issues were rather mixed.

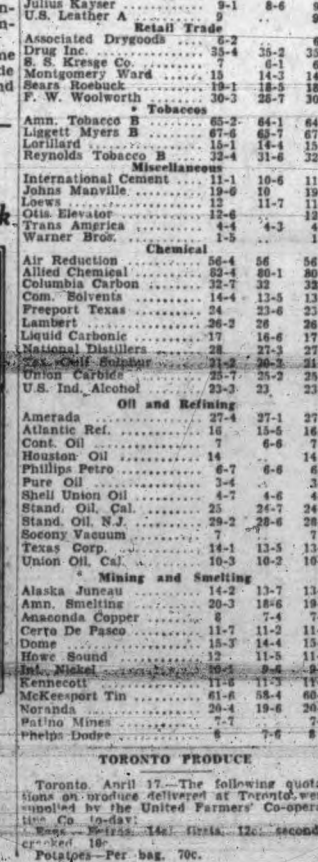

HIS SMILE CAMPAIGN KEYNOTE

From April 17 to April 23, life insurance forces in Canada and the United States co-operate in the movement for "Financial Independence Through Life Insurance," and this portrait has been adopted as a campaign keynote, to symbolize the thrifty man, who, in spite of lean years, is able to "Face the Future Unafraid."

Dorothy Dix

It Is Not Enough to Develop a Line With Which To Catch a Husband, Dorothy Dix Warns Women. You Have to Keep on the Alert, and Alter Your Line of Attractions to Suit Your Age

GETTING married and keeping their husbands in love with them is the chief business of women. Likewise, it is the best occupation they can follow. But, unfortunately, few wives are sagacious enough to know that they have to alter the method of running the matrimonial ship from time to time, and must continually refinance it, or else it comes to bankruptcy.

In other words, at different times in her life a woman needs not only a different line of charms, but more charms with which to allure and hold a man. At sixty she can no more get by with the attractions that sufficed at sixteen than she could run a department store on the capital with which she opened up her first hole-in-the-wall store.

At twenty, for instance, beauty is enough attraction for a girl to have, and it doesn't have to be the real A-1 goods at that. Any fairly good synthetic article will pass, just so it is new and bright and shiny and painted up in gay colors. A pink chiffon dress, a little peroxide or a henna rinse, and the result is a prettiness which catches the eye of a man and makes him invest his all in her.

All we ask of youth is to be easy on the eyes. We don't demand brains, because we get our money's worth by contemplating the highly adorned outside of a girl's head without concerning how it is furnished within. We don't expect witty or entertaining conversation, because all flapper conversation is silly or insane. We don't ask whether the silvery peals of laughter spring from a sense of humor or hysteria. All the capital that Sweet and Twenty needs to do a land-office business on is just good looks.

But by the time a woman is thirty she has to add a new line of attractions to her shelves if she holds her trade. She has to lay in a supply of coquetry. She has to begin to dress her show window so that she will not only catch the roving glances of men but plique their curiosity into wanting to find out if on closer inspection she is as desirable as she seems at first sight.

In a word, she must acquire the art of selling herself to men by making them think that they cannot live without her and that she is the only one who understands them and knows how great and wonderful they are, and, in the second place, by never letting her supply of fascinations run low or get stale and shopworn. Always she keeps a man's attentions centred on her by having some new trick of personality up her sleeve, and she keeps him guessing which way the cat is going to jump. So at thirty a woman must not only be pretty, she must be interesting as well.

At thirty-five a woman must stock intelligence. The flapper may babble as meaninglessly as the brook that runs on and on forever. She may even pull the trick of rolling her eyes at a learned college professor and asking him fool questions and make him think it cute and winsome. But dumbness doesn't go north of thirty-five in a woman's life. After that it isn't cunning. It is dull stupidity. It isn't amusing any more. It is something that makes a man weep tears of self-pity if he has to live with it.

If a girl's fortune is only in her face, she must marry young, or not at all. But if a woman has brains and education she stands a better chance of making a good marriage at thirty-five or forty than she did at twenty because she attracts mature men instead of hobbledyhoys. Also, her marriage is almost always a success because she is clever enough to know not only how to get a man but how to keep him.

It is boredom often rather than a wandering foot that sets men philandering. It is when a man feels that he can no longer endure the tedious conversation of a wife who has never had a new idea or read a book since the first baby was born that makes him jam on his hat and start out in search of the companionship of some woman who will know what he is talking about and at least listen to him when he tries to tell her of his hopes and plans.

And intelligence in a woman means so much more than merely having read the current much-discussed book, or being interested in world movements and an entertaining and amusing chum.

It means knowing how to play the domestic game fairly and squarely and making a man not only a comfortable home but a peaceful and happy one. It means understanding a man and appreciating him. It means laughing things out instead of making tragedies of them. It means being able to take the blows of life on the chin and come up smiling instead of going down in a whining heap before every little rattle of fate. Intelligence is an indispensable quality for every woman to have in unlimited quantities after she is thirty-five. For there will never be an hour or a minute that she will not be called on to use it.

At forty a woman must load up on the virtues. She must carry the largest possible stock of amiability, broadmindedness, generosity, kindness, helpfulness and humor. These are the qualities we must admire in a woman as she grows older, and if she has them nothing else matters much. She may have lost her youth and beauty; her complexion and figure may be things of the long ago, but if she is wise and witty and tender and understanding she is still a fascinator.

Let no woman deceive herself into thinking that she can make a success by specializing in one charm. She has to be a wholesale dealer in all attractions if she wins out.

Learning From Stamps

One of the great things about stamp collecting is the way it fits in with so many fields of knowledge. You may have stamps which show wild animals found in Borneo, Africa or South America.

Four methods of travel shown on stamps

If you are not arranging your stamps by country, you may group them by subjects, for instance, "Animal Stamps" or "Travel Stamps." Here is a stamp showing a man on horseback. That is one method of travel. It was printed in Guatemala, a little republic in Central America. Another stamp is from Portugal, and contains a sketch of sailing ships. It was issued in honor of Vasco da Gama, a famous sea captain. Sailing was the way of Portugal, Vasco da Gama went around the southern end of Africa and across the Indian ocean until he reached India, in the spring 1498. This was the first trip ever made from Europe around southern Africa to India. Four hundred years later Portugal issued a stamp in memory of the great deed.

Frannings! It bears a steamship picture. A "franning" is a German coin, and you needn't guess that Togo is a German colony. But do not be too sure until you look it up. The fact is that Togo, or Togoland, used to belong to Germany; but at the close of the World War, France and Great Britain took charge of it. The land is in Western Africa, near the Gold Coast.

A still more modern means of travel is seen on a stamp from Cuba—a monoplane. About Cuba, you doubtless know something already; but the stamp may lead you to learn more. On the face of it, you gain the idea that there must be air mail in Cuba.

Instead of classing the Cuban monoplane stamp with Travel stamps, you may wish to make it part of an "Air Mail" collection. This seems to be an excellent time for a young stamp collector to start saving air mail stamps. Dozens of kinds of air mail stamps have been issued, and it is safe to say that the next ten years will see a great increase in the number. It should be fun to watch a collection grow as the years go by.

(You may place this under "General Interest" section of your Scrapbook.) Several thousand more copies of the "Surprise Leaflet" will be mailed without charge to readers who send a stamped, return envelope. This leaflet is one of the most popular I have offered. It contains riddles, and tells how to perform magic tricks.

War Gas Effects Are Closely Studied

Associated Press
New York, April 17.—Soldiers poisoned by mustard gas in the Great War can look forward in after-years, at the worst, to chronic bronchitis, emphysema (swollen lung tissues), bronchial asthma and certain eye conditions, such as conjunctivitis and corneal opacities.

Probably 80 per cent can look forward to no ill whatever. It is doubtful whether mustard gas played much part in the development of tuberculosis.

These are some of the conclusions of a study of wartime gasing after-effects made public by the medical bulletin of the veterans' administration.

DOCKS TO HAVE BUSY PERIOD

Passenger Liners and Freighters Will Keep Local Docks Busy All Week

Dorothy Alexander Due This Evening From California; New Grace Ship Coming

The week should be a busy one along the local waterfront, with several big passenger liners, tramp freighters and cargo and passenger ships in port. The movement will commence this evening with the arrival of the President Taft from the Orient and the Dorothy Alexander from Los Angeles and San Francisco. The Dorothy is due at the Ricketts Piers at 9:30 o'clock, the captain of the ship this morning advised the local office.

Thursday afternoon or Friday morning the motorship Aorangi is due here from Sydney, Auckland, Suva and Honolulu. If the weather is good she will be here on Thursday. She left Honolulu last Friday evening.

On Saturday three passenger liners will be in port. In the morning the fourth and last of the new Grace liners, the Santa Elena, is due here from New York by way of the Panama Canal and California ports.

In the afternoon the Empress of Canada and the President Taft will be here starting their return voyages to the Orient. The Empress of Canada will travel across the Pacific by way of the Hawaiian Islands.

Wednesday evening the Dorothy will be here on her return to California and on Thursday evening the Ruth Alexander is due in from the south, to return here Saturday evening on her return voyage to California.

The British freighter Yeary is today completing loading of nearly 1,000,000 feet of lumber for the United Kingdom and will get away from the Ogdon Point piers late this afternoon. She will go to Port Alberni to complete.

This afternoon the Japanese freighter Koshin Maru is due to load lumber and scrap iron for Japan and Tuscacola. She will commence on loading the ship at 8 o'clock in the morning.

Towards the end of the week the freighters Bendis and Tuscacola are expected to take further parcels of lumber. Both ships will go to Ogdon Point.

From Rotterdam and London, the Royal Mail motorship Loch Monar is due here Thursday or Friday. She has 100 tons of cargo for this port.

THE ROYAL SCOT VISITS CANADA

The famous Royal Scot express of the London, Midland and Scottish Railway will be seen on Canadian rails for the first time in its history when it will travel over to be exhibited at the World's Fair at Chicago. Arriving at Montreal by steamship about the end of April, the famous train will be assembled for the run to Chicago. At the conclusion of the exhibition, it will again run through Canada to be reloaded for shipment to Montreal to Chicago the Royal Scot will traverse the rails of the Canadian Pacific Railway, with stops en route at Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton and other points. On its return journey it will travel over the lines of the Canadian National Railway with similar stops for public inspection at various towns and cities. Details of the itineraries of this famous train en route to and from Chicago will shortly be announced.

Canadians will have an opportunity to compare the Canadian locomotives to which they have become accustomed with the 6100 of the L. M. & S. which hauls the Royal Scot, and they can also visualize the tremendous changes and improvements in engine design which have taken place since the old "Lion" forerunner of the British 6100 class was in use.
